THE MIRROR

CLASS OF 1913

DEDICATION

TO

Prof. Frank Dean Tubbs, S.T.A.

"One of the Fearless Few who dare to think," who, by his untiring efforts in behalf of the college, by his genial personality in the class room and by his willingness of spirit to aid a friend at all times, has endeared himself forever to Bates men and women, this Book is lovingly dedicated by the class of Nineteen Thirteen as a partial token of the depth and sincerity of their appreciation.

G r e e t i n g

IT is with no great misgiving that we present this volume of The Mirror for we feel that in some small degree at least we have done our best. We fully realize our mistakes and failures and cheerfully await all criticisms, knowing that they are merited. We only ask that our classmates will receive this number with that loyal Bates spirit that minimizes the error, magnifies the good point and is ever ready with an encouraging word.

May you feel inclined to place this book on your five foot shelf and may its leaves be thumbed to raggedness in the years to come when you oft seek to revive Bates memories.

That this book may prove a Mirror in fact as well as in name and of such a nature that it will truly reflect the dear old college days when they shall have become only a memory is the sincerest wish of the Editor.

THE MIRROR

I am not bound to win, but I am bound to be true. I am not bound to succeed, but I am bound to live up to the light I have.

—A. Lincoln.

Alma Mater

HERE'S to Bates, our Alma Mater dear,
Proudest and fairest of her peers,
We pledge to her our loyalty,
Our faith and our honor thru the years.
Long may her praises resound,
Long may her sons exalt her name,
May her glory shine while time endures,
Here's to our Alma Mater's fame.

We have seen her battles bravely fought,
Prowess and pluck upon the field,
We have known defeat and victory;
Bates men were never known to yield.
Here's to the Garnet—Hurrah!
Here's to the pluck that shall not fail,
To our Bates and all she means to us,
Here's to our Alma Mater—Hail!

*We live in deeds not years; in thoughts not breaths;
In feelings not in figures on the dial.
We should count time by the heart throbs when they beat
For God, for man, for duty. He most lives
Who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best.
Life is but a means unto an end—that end,
Beginning, mean and end to all things, God.*

—Philip James Baile

HISTORY

TO FIND the most convincing record of the history of 1913, turn from this brief, unsatisfactory page and read in the pictures and registered achievements of our winning members and teams that we have been splendidly, fairly victorious. You will find that the number 13 was never an unpropitious numeral for us; indeed, it was quite the opposite, for even as Freshmen we made every victory our own until—history must be accurate and unprejudiced so we quote from our opponents—rival classes characterized us in expressive but inferior language as pigs, characterization that reflects disparagingly on them rather than on us. As Baby Freshmen we gathered so many victories into our pinafore that Mother Bates sighed for the day when she could put us into the indestructible jeans suitable for growing youngsters. As Sophomores we proved that we had not been mere infant prodigies; we were still the swiftest, the speediest, the strongest, the heaviest, and the most intellectual individuals at Bates. With the usual nonchalant and egotistical attitude of Sophomores we appropriated coveted victories from the upperclassmen and showed by our methods of dealing with the Freshmen that we possessed by instinct the fundamental principles of education. But we outgrew some of our Sophomore characteristics when we outgrew the indestructible jeans—and then! Alas for the days of that sentimental junior year. We furnished abundant amusement for the faculty who, unless they are personally interested in such affairs themselves, find unequalled diversion in observing the thorny path trod by sentimentally inclined individuals. We were still the victors, we were still Prexie's Best at Bates, but the memories of the year somehow or other all cluster around the sentimental episodes. Out of the informality of the junior class party, when we played kid games and shocked the faculty chaperones grew a friendship and good-fellowship that has made our Senior year most pleasant. We have forgotten the misunderstandings of our freshman year, the quarrels of our sophomore year, the disagreements of our junior year and are just friends, willing to remember only the best things each one of us has done and above all as we clasp hands in final farewell, it will be with the knowledge in each heart that whether we ever meet again or not, whether we attain success or failure, we shall ever be true to old Bates and nineteen thirteen.

ENOCH HERMON ADAMS

"Ike"

What serious and careworn expressions are visible in this young man's face. These infant brothers with their numerous love affairs, are very trying. Ike expects to become an expert in the lumber business some day, and if he hews away in that line as well as he has in Pom's courses and at a certain young lady's heart he will undoubtedly succeed, at least we hope so. Enoch is an expert guide and hen picker, but we can't think of anything to knock him on, so we'll try to make it up on his brother. An optimist, a good fellow and then some, that's Ike.

Born at Belgrade, Me., May 8, 1890; Belgrade High School, '08; entered Bates in 1908; Prize Drills, Indian Club (1); Dumb Bell (2); Broadwords (3); member Y. M. C. A.; Polymnia, Treasurer (2); member Parker Hall Association; member Jordan Scientific Society; Executive Committee; Ivy Day Presiding Officer; Class President (3); Majors English, Physics, Biology; thesis subject, "The Early Drama;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, business; address, Belgrade, Me.

FRANK CLASON ADAMS

"FRANK"

The next member of the menagerie, Ladies and Gentlemen, is the younger member of the family of Adams, hailing from Belgrade (Maine). Lest there might be some who are not, as it were, cognizant of the fact, we wish to state that said gentleman was manager of the track team of nineteen twelve and therefore at present is manager (d) emeritus, cum loude (pronounce as spelt and give a literal meaning), etc. As for his jokes, one has to be a musician to appreciate them, for since they always B flat one has to C sharp to get the point. But when Frank tries to B natural instead of to B flat, he is a friend of all and a friend to all.

Born at Belgrade, Me., Sept. 14, 1891; Belgrade High School, '08; entered Bates in 1908; Assistant Manager Track (2); Manager (3); President Maine Intercollegiate Athletic Association (4); Executive Committee Maine Intercollegiate Athletic Association (4); Prize Drills, Dumb Bell (2); Broadsword (3); wearer of Manager's "B:" member Y.M. C. A.; Religious Meeting Committee (3); Social Service (4); Polymnian; member Parker Hall Association; Vice-President (3); member Politics Club (3), (4); member Jordan Scientific Society (3), (4); President (4); Congregational; Progressive; majors, History, Economics; thesis subject, "The World's Struggle for Markets;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, business; address, Belgrade, Me.

HAROLD CUSHMAN ALLEY

"HAL"

Hal was always one of those precocious children and in fact was born with a Webster's dictionary in one hand and a Greek grammar in the other. Yet with all this barricade Hal is susceptible to feminine wiles. This slam would not be complete without some mention of Hal's method of locomotion, for really it is the most conspicuous thing about the boy. It's seven leagues at a stride with all the necessary contortions. Those who have witnessed this performance are, indeed, fortunate, and those who have not have much to live for. But if Hal strides towards Success as he strides down College Street, the goal will be both near and easy for him.

Born at North Paris, August 24, 1891; E. L. H. S., '09; made numerals in Track (3); Tennis (3); Pierian; Executive Committee (2); member Jordan Scientific Society; member Sophomore Prize Debate Team (2); Ivy Day Speaker; Orator (3); Universalist; Independent; Majors, German, Mathematics; degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, 90 Pleasant Street, Auburn, Me.

BESSIE MAE ATTO

"Bess"

Here is Bess, who may be called the second star of Bethlehem. And what a demure young lady she seems to be; yet the Dean reports that she really is crazy over the boys. Anyhow, Cheever thinks she is the most popular girl in the class, but then, perhaps there's a reason. One of the most noteworthy factors of her life, outside of her smiles, is the fact that she came to us from New Hampshire's greatest and most glorious town with its rapid transit service of one, combined freight and passenger, train a day. Bess is herself a combination of fun and happiness.

Born at Bethlehem, New Hampshire, Feb. 15 1889; Bethlehem High School, '07; made numerals in Basketball; Chairman Executive Committee of Athletic Association (4); member Y. W. C. A.; Vice-President (4); Chairman Social Committee (3); Polymnian; Chairman Flower Committee (4); Ivy Day Speaker, "Social Life;" Class Secretary (3); Congregationalist; Majors, English, German; thesis subject, "Titanic Element in Faust;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Bethlehem, N. H.

MARGARET AIMEE BALLARD

"AMMIE"

No other inhabited township, so far as we have been able to discover, has produced such brilliant talent and so much of it, as Fryeburg. Here is the other of her cultured daughters, ycleped Aimee, because of amiable disposition. She has a special fondness for a certain young man, and has often been seen walking down College Street holding hands with him. Aimee calls him Eugene and says he is four years old. Aimee's record is a whole year's German without the use of B. Taylor's most popular work; which leads us to remark that she ranks as one of our most brilliant students.

Born at Fryeburg, Me., March 25, 1892; Fryeburg Academy, '09; member Y. W. C. A.; Polymnian; Freshmen Prize Declamations; Sophomore Prize Declamations; Class Day Speaker, Historian; Senior Exhibition Speaker; General Scholarship Prize (1); Congregational; Majors. Latin, German, English; thesis subject, "Education Among the Romans;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Fryeburg, Me.

RALPH RAYMOND BARR

"BOB"

There are sand bars, iron bars and bars that they do not have in Prohibition Maine, but this, Ladies and Gentlemen, is Ralph Barr. Encumbered or perhaps enlightened by matrimonial ties, he escaped from the class of 1911 and came to us in our Sophomore year. But he has proved no Barr to our happiness and progress and we were glad indeed, to have him. He is a friend of Emmons', but that should not be held against him. Barr is a quiet man, a shark in his Geol. and a good student in all his courses, and that's saying quite a lot for a fellow.

Born at Spartansburg, Pa., June 3, 1887; Wilmington Conference Academy, Dover, Del., '06; entered Bates in class of 1910; member Politics Club (4); Class Day Speaker, "Address to Undergraduates;" Baptist; Democrat; Majors, History, English, German; thesis subject, "The World's Struggle for Markets;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, "Teaching;" address, 71 Sabattus Street, Lewiston, Me.

MARCH 29. Easter recess. Everybody goes home except debaters.

WARREN LEROY BENNETT

"BEN"

Well, here's Ben! We call him "Old faithful, the mascot of the boarding house." Never known to miss a meal and once he is "set" at the table he never leaves it until everything has Ben(n)-ett. Makes one pretty dizzy though, watching him demolish a plate of soup with that left hand; and reach! why he is advertising agent for Reach Bros. And crack jokes! my but he's a rogue, and always has "Be(e)n." Good luck to you, Ben.

Born at Sweden, Me., Jan. 15, 1891; Bridgton Academy, '09; member Y. M. C. A.; Piærian; member Parker Hall Association; Congregational; Republican; Majors, English, Mathematics, Philosophy-Education; thesis subject, "The Value of Science in Fiction;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, North Bridgton, Me.

ELWOOD GEORGE BESSEY

"BESS"

Elwood Bessey. These two words are symbols (cymbals) for the band. Bess would also play the piano in the band if it were a necessary equipment of that organization. But he plays it in the orchestra instead and does both himself and the piano credit. The college hopes to be able to find a man able to take his place at the piano next year, but they never can find a man to play the cymbals in such a manner as he. Last fall a stranger, admiring the band playing said "What do you think of his (meaning Bess) execution?" "I think it would be a good thing," was the reply. And they passed on. So do we.

Born at Parkman, Me., May 20, 1892; Dexter, Me., High School, '08; made numerals in Football (4); pianist for Prize Drills; member Musical Association; member College Band (4); Glee Club (4); College Orchestra (2), (3), (4); member Y. M. C. A.; Polymnian; Free Baptist; Progressive; Majors, Biblical Literature and English; degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Dexter, Me.

VERNE BLAKE

"VERN"

Verne landed at Bates with a thud which re-echoed for about a month and then gradually died down until it became inaudible. It has always been a mystery to us why she suddenly became exclusive and left her Freshman life of gayety and frivolity for one of seclusion. The Powers of Love must have had a wonderful influence over her. Now that John is gone she walks in the straight and narrow way, shuns the smiles of men and roams in paths of solitude. Oh lucky John, to have a miss so true.

Born at Haverhill, Mass., July 28, 1891; Haverhill High School, '09; member Girls' Glee Club (1), (2); Piærian; Music Committee (1), (2), (3); Chairman (4); Executive Committee (4); member Fireplace Club; Sophomore Prize Declamations; Unitarian; Majors, English, German; thesis subject, "In Memoriam;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching.

RALPH MERRILL BONNEY

"BONNY"

Know ye by these presents that said Bonney of the rural precinct of Turner was during the month of May, free from troubles, aches, pains and ailments for the space of three and one-half consecutive hours. No fooling, that's a fact! Forestry and Marriage seem to be his future, though we are afraid the cold air and exertion of the former will be too much for his frail constitution and hence delay the latter, that is, if he can make up his mind about it at all.

If you wish a couplet true
Of what he'll say or do
Behold!
"Oh, how I ache.
Which shall I take?"
'Tis told!

Born at Turner, Me., June 2, 1892; Leavitt Institute, Turner, '09; made numerals, Football (4); Prize Drills, Indian Club (1); Dumb Bell (2); Broadwords (3); Leader (2), (3); member Musical Association; Glee Club (2), (3), (4); Mandolin Club (2, (3), (4); Banjo Club (3); member Y. M. C. A.; Polymnian; member Parker Hall Association; Assistant Athletic Editor (2); Class Day Social Committee (4); Class Constitutional Committee (1); Assistant in Gymnasium; Universalist; Progressive Republican; Majors, German, Mathematics; Physics; thesis subject, "Theory of Relativity;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, Forestry; address, Turner, Me.

VERA CAMERON

"VERA"

We all certainly agree with Cub that she is

"Pretty to walk with Witty to talk with
And pleasant to think on."

From the little town of Fryeburg she came to us and she still has a tender spot in her breast for "the good old days." Seldom are so many good qualities concentrated in one person as they are in Vera. On the dullest of days when even the most light-hearted might be blue, she never appears to be suffering from melancholia. Though by no means a grind, she has the happy faculty of always being able to recite, even though the night before may have been spent in Revelry. She has been on Prize Divisions, Ivy Day Speaker and is a shining light in Oratory. We predict a happy and brilliant future for her.

Born at Centre Conway, N. H., Aug. 10, 1892; Fryeburg Academy, '08; Assistant Treasurer Athletic Association (4); Glee Club (3); member Y. W. C. A.; Polymnian; Freshman Prize Declamations; Sophomore Prize Declamations; Ivy Day Speaker; Prophecy; Universalist; Majors, Latin, German; thesis subject, "Influence of Classics upon English Literature;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Fryeburg, Me.

ALBERT RAYMOND CARTER

"BING"

This man certainly has a novel name. "Nick" Carter, but we have proof that he never wrote or published a dime novel in his life, so he is not more than half as bad as you might think by his name. We are afraid that Bing has succumbed to that fatal malady called Co-education. She graduated in 1911, but Nick doesn't seem to be any better, so he probably has an incurable case. Bing is the veteran school-marm of the class, having wielded the birch rod several years in the wilds and wildernesses of the backwoods of Maine. Daniel Webster was also a V.S. and we expect big things from Bing.

Born at Bluehill, Me.; George Stevens Academy, Bluehill, '05; Prize Drills, Dumb Bell (2); Broadswords (3); Pierian; Chairman Executive Committee (4); Free Baptist; Republican; Majors, English, Chemistry; thesis subject, "The Meat Packing Industry;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Bluehill, Me.

APRIL 25. R. I. State, 1; Bates, 2. Eleven innings. One hit off the Swede.

CASH

"HARD CASH"

One evening, just as the sun was setting behind Mt. David this, the hardest thing in the class and he simply can't make those eyes behave, descended from a figure 8 and wended its way toward Parker Hall and so there has always been Cash in the class ever since. He is well known as a politician in the town of Oxford (this is no Ad) and is known to be devilish at times. Moreover, Leon has the girls all guessing as to who the damsel might be whom he brought to the Football games last fall. Most Cash talks and so does Leon once in a while but for the most part he is silent and we fear has made himself, like his name, scarce among us.

Born at Oxford, Me., Feb. 12, 1890; Oxford High School, '07; Prize Drills, Dumb Bell (2); Broadwords (3); member College Band (2), (3), (4); Polymnian; winner in Prize Division Debate (2); Congregationalist; Progressive; Majors, History, English, Mathematics; thesis subject, "The 14th Amendment;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Oxford, Me.

GORDON LUTHER CAVE

"GLOOMY GUS"

Don't be frightened, ladies and gentlemen, he will not harm you. This genus hominis was captured on the Center Strafford river and imported to Lewiston in 1908. He has a great appetite for books and devours numerous volumes daily. His favorite food is Chemical Analysis, Drew Medals and Home Cooking magazines. Most of us don't realize the amount of work that Gordon does without making a whole lot of rumpus about it, but he is one of the fellows who has helped to establish our reputation in debating.

Born at Rochester, N. H., Jan. 8, 1891; Dover, N. H., High School, '08; entered Bates in 1908; member of Y. M. C. A.; Piærian; member of Parker Hall Association; charter member of Politics Club (3); President (4); Jordan Scientific Society (4); championship debate (2); member of the Bates 1913 vs. M. A. C. debating team (2); member of the Bates vs. Clark team (3); member of the Bates vs. Clark team (4); wearer of Drew medal; first prize of Senior Exhibition; Assistant in Chemistry (4); winner of Lewiston Sun Prize Essay (2); National Food Magazine, Chemistry Prize (4); Secretary of Debating Council (4); Democrat; Free Baptist; Majors, English, Chemistry; thesis subject, "The Trend of Matter;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, education; address, Centre Strafford, N. H.

JOHN PLYMPTON CHEEVER

"JACK"

Here we have it, J. P. Cheever of Plainville, Mass., which said place is a rival of Greene, Me., in their twin endeavors to be put on the map. We are sorry to say that only late at night can Jack be found in his room, but then we must take into account that he is one of our hardest workers and has already found favor in the sight of the Chemistry Prof. and the patrons of Leclair's restaurant. In days gone by Jack was a frequent visitor to that artistic building across the way, and we claim that Dora seems to be a favorite name with some of our young men. Well, Jack, it's up to you to a Cheev-er success.

Born at Plainville, Mass., August 5, 1887; Dean Academy, Franklin, Mass., '08; transferred to Bates from Worcester Polytechnical Institute; Prize Drill, Dumb Bell (2); member Y. M. C. A.; Polymnian; member Parker Hall Association; member Massachusetts Club; member Jordan Scientific Society; Assistant in Chemistry (4); Episcopalian; Republican; Majors, Chemistry, German; thesis subject, "Potassium;" degree, B.S.; intended occupation, teaching; address, 101 South St., Plainville, Mass.

MAY 6. Debating "Season" opens. Lost to Colgate, but got away with Clark at Worcester. Record now stands 25-5 in our favor.

GRACE JARVIS CONNER

"GRACE"

This is the great literary lion of the class. It's true she doesn't appear like a lion, but if you will just take a look at her achievements, you won't have any cause for doubts. We can't see that all these honors have made her a bit swell-headed, though. She's just as sweet and unassuming as if she hadn't written the nicest poetry and the best essays of anyone in the illustrious class of nineteen thirteen. We hear that she is going into journalism and we wish her the best of luck and hope that some day she will make a name for herself that will reflect its glory back upon her college and her class.

Born at Brockton, Mass., April 10, 1892; E. L. H. S., '09; Girls' Mandolin Club (4); Eurosophian; member Spofford Club (3), (4); Vice-President (4); member Fireplace Club (4); Vice-President Outside Girls' Association; Literary Editor on STUDENT Board (3); Class Editor on MIRROR Board (4); Sophomore Prize Declamations (2); Ivy Day Speaker, Poet (3); Sophomore Essay Prize (2); Junior Exhibition Speaker (3); Senior Exhibition Speaker (4); Assistant in English (3), (4); Universalist; Progressive; Majors, English, German, degree, A.B.; intended occupation, journalism; address, 15 Weaver Street, Auburn, Me.

MAY 7. Debaters celebrate. "Gloomy" goes home; "Mutt" Rowe goes to Spencer to see a co-ed (?)

VERNA MAY COREY

"VERNA"

Verna is a happy little girl who is always ready for a good time. All her life centers around music and Ike. We've thought and thought and thought some more to find something special to slam Verna on, but somehow, "all of a sudden" we find its Ike we're thinking of instead of Verna, and then we're side-tracked again. Well, perhaps it doesn't make much difference for its practically the same thing and moreover it looks like a sure thing. Verna would make a bright ray of sunlight in the sleepy little hamlet of Belgrade and Ike would surely enjoy having her there.

And we think t'would be no harm
If we hoped with earnest wishes
You'll be happy on the farm.

Born at Portland, Me., Feb. 21, 1891; Dexter, Me., High School, '09; member Girls' Glee Club; Polymnian, Secretary (2); member Y. W. C. A.; chairman Music Committee (3); Methodist; Majors, English, German; thesis subject, "Faust as Interpreted in Music;" Degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Intervale, N. H.

DOUGLAS HILARY CORLEY

"CORLEY"

This gentleman with ladylike, soothing articulation is almost a stranger to us, having entered the fold so recently. Since he has been with us we have seen so little of him that we hardly know him. He certainly has the cordial welcome of the class and also a hearty "Luck be with you," when in June we blaze our trails to teachers' agencies. We are sorry you waited so long before entering 1913, but better late than never and it certainly showed your good judgment.

Born at London, England, Jan. 11, 1882; Finsbury Park Academy, '96; entered Bates in fall of 1912; member Y. M. C. A.; Pieterian; member of Politics Club; Student Volunteer Band; Methodist Episcopalian; Democrat; Major, Philosophy: thesis subject, "Conscience;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, ministry; address, 34 Central St., Randolph, Me.

MAY 11. Maine intercollegiate track meet at Brunswick. Bates wins and breaks three state records.

ELAINE CURRIER

"ELAINE"

Elaine's favorite song is "To the ends of the world with you, New Hampshire." All over New Hampshire friends are patriotic, but she was endowed with a double supply of patriotism. For this, as for everything else, there is a reason. No. Elaine, we are not going to spring that old hack-neved expression about your daily letter. We will merely say that New Hampshire has other attractions aside from mere scenery. Though a little more sedate than Hazel, she is always ready to look on the bright side of things and is never among the absent where a good time is brewing.

Born at Boston, Mass., Feb. 7, 1891; Proctor Academy, Andover, N. H., '09; member Y. W. C. A.; Polymnian; member New Hampshire Club, President (4); member Fireplace Club; Exchange Editor, Bates Student (4); member Current Events Club; Class Ode; Unitarian; Majors, English, Mathematics; thesis subject, "Bobbie Burns;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Andover, N. H.

HAZEL CURRIER

"HAZEL"

Here's Hazel—another noble product of the state of New Hampshire. Though outwardly very dignified, she not infrequently gives up to the frivolities of life—but don't tell Prof. Gould. She doesn't want him to think ill of her. We can't see how he really could though, considering the fact that she has toiled through History, Economics and Government with him. And she may have taken Labor Problems for all we know. Never you mind, Hazel, we admire you for it and we hope to realize in you one who can settle all the perplexing social and labor difficulties of the future. Time alone will tell.

Born at Boston, Mass., May 14, 1892; Proctor Academy, Andover, N. H., '09; member Mandolin Club; Polymnian; member New Hampshire Club; Executive Committee (4); member Fireplace Club; Vice-President (4); Unitarian; Progressive; Majors, English, History, Chemistry; thesis subject, "Need of a National Budget;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Andover, N. H.

ETHEL BATSON CUTTS

"CUTTSON"

Ethel Cutts some ice around Mr. Bates' college. She is particularly interested in Y. W. C. A. work and we all thought that that was to be her life work. But, somehow, she dropped it all of a sudden like hot cakes. You'll have to ask Ethel why. On the sly we'll give you a hint, but after all it's kind of mean to tell secrets, isn't it? And, besides, we don't know his name anyway. Ethel is a nice little girl and we are glad that he didn't take her off at least before she finished college.

Born at New Hampton, N. H., Jan. 13, 1890; Merrimac High School, '08; Manager Baseball (4); Glee Club, Manager (4); member Y. W. C. A., Secretary (2); Chairman Bible Study Committee (3); Annual Member of Northeastern Field Committee of Y. W. C. A. (4); Piaerian; member Fireplace Club; member Current Events Club; member New Hampshire Club; Congregational; Majors, German, English; thesis subject, "Anglo-German Relations Since 1906;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, Y. W. C. A. work; address, Derry, N. H.

BLYNN EDWIN DAVIS

"BLYNN"

All "Hale" to Blynn. He "Hales" from Bridgton. We are quite sure that Blynn believes in co-education. At all events it would seem thusly. If you have happened to be in the library any time during these last two years—Oh, those dear little hands so close together! Furthermore, we hereby announce, at Blynn's request, that he was Editor-in-Chief of the BATES STUDENT and that he simply tolerated the rest of the board as a necessary evil. When we notice the honors he has and the assistantships he held, we wonder how Prexie's college will get along without him.

Born at Bridgton, Me., 1886; Bridgton High School, '05; entered Bates, 1906; Prize Drill; Broadwords (4); member Y. M. C. A.; Cabinet (4); Pierian; member Roger Williams Hall Association; member Spofford Club; member Jordan Scientific Society; Local Editor on STUDENT Board (2); Editor-in-Chief (3); Senior Exhibition Speaker; Assistant in English, Argumentation, Mathematics; General Scholarship (1), (2), (3), (4); Congregationalist; Republican; Majors, Mathematics, English; thesis subject, "The Literature of Maine; degree, B.S.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Bridgton, Me.

FLORENCE AUGUSTA DAY

"DAISY"

Florence would be a nice little girl were it not for her Mephistophelian nature. Here is a true example of the college cut up. She has been the source of more constant worry and dismay to the Dean than any other day in college. She has even become so deteriorated as to claim that God never made anything so beautiful as man. We were in hopes that four years in college might change her, but she has remained the same little "Grammie." But with all her faults we love her still and we hope the light of Day will continue to shine as brightly as it has shone here for four years.

Born at Kennebunk, Me., June 18, 1891; Kennebunk High School, '09; member Y. W. C. A.; Treasurer (3); President (4); Polymnian; Free Baptist; Majors, Mathematics, Chemistry, English; thesis subject, "Synthetic Chemistry;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, West Kennebunk, Me.

WALTER PRESTON DEERING

"WALT"

And on this page is the champion long distance walker of Bates. We see him around the college once in a while and fleeting glimpses of him loping up College Street have been reported. And to add more, his roommates claim that he pays them an occasional visit. You sure have fallen hard, this time, Walter. But what could we do without you? Because you are a fellow who does the unexpected in track, who captured the Coe scholarship, and who tries to help us all, we cannot but designate you as an athlete, scholar, and gentleman, a record that any one should be proud to possess.

Born at Denmark, Me., Oct. 16, 1889; Roxbury Latin School, Boston, '08; Track (1), (2), (3), (4); Captain Cross Country Team (4); Assistant Manager Baseball (3); made B in track (3); made numerals (2), (3), (4); member Y. M. C. A.; Chairman Council (4); Polymnian; Vice-President (3); Chairman Membership Committee (4); member Student Council (2), (3), (4); Secretary (3); Vice-President (4); Parker Hall Association, President (4); member Jordan Scientific Society (3), (4); Local Editor on STUDENT Board (3); Class Day Speaker, Farewell Address; Class Treasurer (1); Assistant in English (3), (4); General Scholarship (1), (2); Coe Scholarship (3); Baptist; Progressive; Majors, English, History, German; thesis subject, "Ministerial Responsibility in Germany;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, business; address, Bridgton, Me., R. F. D. No. 1.

ALTON IRWIN DELANO

"DEL"

Del, the great silent man, came to college that he might grow broader—intellectually, and the Y. M. C. A. has, in the meantime, been benefited, even broadened because of his endeavors. Due to the sad example of his town-and-room-mate, Cash, Alton once strayed over to Fiske room and like the butterfly, approached too near the flame, but in due time he recovered. Did you ever notice his initials, A. I. D.? And to aid is the characteristic feature of his life.

Born at Oxford, Me., Feb. 13, 1889; Hebron Academy, '07; member Varsity Football Team; member Varsity Track Team; made numerals in Track; member Band (2), (3), (4); Manager (4); member Y. M. C. A. Social Committee (3); Cabinet (4); Polymnian; member Parker Hall Association; Methodist; Progressive; Major, Chemistry; thesis subject, "Production and Utilization of Nitrogen;" degree, B.S.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Oxford, Me.

CARLTON AMORY DENNIS

"DENNIE"

Every class has its model student, but not every class can boast of having a Worcester man for its pet—Worcester, the home of more athletes, sports, students, ministers and truly good looking men than any other city in the United States. When all others fail there is always one to uphold the reputation of nineteen thirteen—and that's Carlton. He is ever ready and willing to lead class prayer-meeting, but perhaps that's because he has such a fine command of Sunday School language. Just talk with him a minutes if you don't believe us. But we know him best on the gridiron. And now that college football is over for him we can only hope that the "I can buck a stone wall" spirit will remain with him and that he will tackle his work in the future as successfully as he has tackled his opponents in the past.

Born at Bellows Falls, Vt., August 11, 1890; Worcester, Mass., South High School, '09; made "B" in Football (1), (2), (3), (4); Captain (4); made "B" in Track (1); made numerals in Baseball, Basketball, Track; member Maine Intercollegiate Arbitration Board (4); member Y. M. C. A.; member Parker Hall Association; member Massachusetts Club; Vice-President (3); Ivy Day Speaker; Toastmaster; Class Day Speaker, Pipe Oration; Class Treasurer (2); Republican; Major, Chemistry; thesis subject, "Artificial Silk;" degree, B.S.; intended occupation, coaching or business.

BURT LEE DEXTER

"BURTIE"

Bertie—. What a cute little name. And Burt is some cute kid, too. He is Dennie's running mate from Worcester. He is no relation to D. Sheehan and has bribed us not to tell all of his faults such as fussing, smoking and swearing, so we won't mention them. His summers, for the past few years, have been spent at Lake George and if all reports are true, he has made good there even as he has here, not only by plugging away at track, but in all his other work as well. Like the rest of us, Bertie has had his love affairs and most any night of the week might be seen hastening down toward Pierce Street.

Born at Dalton, N. H., Oct. 23, 1890; Whitefield, N. H., High School, '08; entered Bates in 1908; made numerals Track (1), Football (4); member Y. M. C. A.; Bible Study Committee (3); Mission Study (4); Polymnian; member Massachusetts Club; member Politics Club (3), (4); delegate to Washington, D. C. (4); Methodist Episcopal; Progressive Republican; Majors, History, German, English; thesis subject, "The Growth of the Monroe Doctrine;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, 78 Chatham Street, Worcester, Mass.

JOHN HEWSON DICKSON, JR.

"DEACON"

A Most Important Drama

SCENE 1.—Eurosophia room; Friday evening at 7.30.

Characters—John Hewson Dickson, Jr., Pres. of Eurosophia.

The audience (which doesn't count).

The character, clad in a purple suit which can be heard over at Bertram Hall. On a chair, to one side, a brown overcoat, also audible, and a sheeny hat.

Distinguishing characteristics of the character—good looks, ability to blow himself and a good supply of natural gas (attributable to the fact that he works for the gas company at odd moments). Gist of the speech delivered by the character: "I—I—myself—I could do—I—What I did once—me—I—

NOTE. This is a bit exaggerated, John really is a pretty good sort.

Born at St. Albans, Vt.; Jordan High School, '09; Manager Class Basketball Team (2); made numerals Baseball (1), (2); Basketball (1), (2); Football (4); Glee Club (3), (4); Mandolin Club (3), (4); Banjo Club (3), (4); Eurosophian, President (4); Social Editor on MIRROR Board (4); Class Day Speaker, Prophecy for Men; Judge Sophomore Decs. (4); Episcopalian; Democrat; Majors, English, Philosophy; degree, A.B.; intended occupation, business; address, 65 Pierce Street, Lewiston.

MARGARET HENRIETTA DICKSON

"MARGARET"

John would probably tell you that Margaret is distinguished by being his sister; but we would have to sift that. Margaret is perfectly able to look out for herself and it is our private opinion that she can make little brother step around rather swiftly if she happens to take a notion. John isn't the only young man Margaret has to look after either. We don't have to mention his name for he is openly susceptible to Margaret's charms. We have all done our best to help him but he doesn't seem to make much progress. Margaret's greatest achievement, however, is the conquering of all the elements of the Latin language without the aid of the cavalry and there is no doubt but that as a Latin teacher she will win her laurels.

Born at Montreal, Quebec; fitted for college at Concord, N. H., High School; member Y. W. C. A.; Eurosophia; Assistant Secretary (2); Flower Committee (4); member Fireplace Club; Episcopalian; Progressive; Majors, English, Latin; thesis subject, "Our Debt to Pompeii;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, 65 Pierce Street, Lewiston.

ELIZABETH EMILY DOUGHTY

"LIZA"

Here is another of our friends whom we wish we might have seen more of. Liza is not one of those people who always find her way into things but is perfectly satisfied with being her own pleasant self, wherever Chance has it that she may be. We expect that she will become State Fish Commissioner when women get the ballot, since her chief interest is in that aquarium of hers. Why, those fish come right up to the surface to talk with her; but how they learned to swear at the pollywogs the way they do—it really is scandalous, and here in Lewiston, too. Best wishes go with you, Liza.

Born at South Durham, Me., March 16, 1891; Lisbon Falls High School, '07; Girls' Mandolin Club; Eurosophian; member Fireplace Club; Free Baptist; Bull Moose; Majors, German, English; thesis subject, "Goethe's Faust and Byron's Manfred;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Lisbon Falls, Me.

LYNNE HOWARD DURRELL

"LYNN"

We cannot help but wonder if this gentleman, "The pride of Kingfield," was named with malice aforethought. He has certainly worn out enough Lynn shoe leather in pursuit of the fair sex to be named Lynn(e). We wonder (Please notice that this is truly a wonder full write up) if the whole female population of Lewiston and Auburn will turn out in mourning to the train when said gentleman at last begins the search for a satisfactory employer.

It wouldn't be fair to tell what Lynn said when that biscuit hit him behind the ear because he's a pretty good fellow and we won't tell stories about him.

Born at North Freeman, Me., May 21, 1889; Kingfield, Me., High: '09; member Y. M. C. A. Cabinet (3), (4); Piærian; member Roger Williams Association; charter member Politics Club (3); Vice-President (4); Free Baptist; Progressive; Majors, English, History; thesis subject, "Influence of Judiciary on Thought;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Kingfield, Me.

CONSTANTINE NICHOLAS ELIOPOULOS

"ELIOPOULOS"

Constantine Nicholas Eliopoulos—did you get that? Just say it over once or twice and it goes as slick as Theophilis Thistle, the successful thistle sifter, etc. This man came to us from the Bangor Theological Seminary and his home is across the pond in far off Macedonia. We certainly were never more pleased with any addition to our class than we were with Mr. Eliopoulos. His intellectual ability, keen wit, and strong character, supplemented by his pleasant smile and cheery greeting, have won him many an enduring friendship among the members of 1913.

Born at Macedonia (formerly Turkey in Europe); received his early education in his native land; fitted for college at the American International College and Academy, Springfield, Mass., 1903-9; entered Bangor Theological Seminary, 1909, graduating in 1912, completing his work for the B.D. degree; entered Bates as a Senior in fall of 1912; Congregationalist; Progressive; Majors, Philosophy, Language; thesis subject, "Superiority of Christianity Over Buddhism;" intended occupation, Ministry; home address, Servia, Macedonia.

GEORGE HINCKLEY EMMONS

"HINCK"

George. How well the name suits him! And yet a rose with any other name would be as sweet. Everyone who knows him realizes his literary ability. What a career he has had; from High School days to nineteen thirteen—the Shining Light in English. Oh, George, we pray thee "Do come back to earth!" Can't we appreciate you? Must we be poets ourselves to comprehend you?

Born at Lewiston, Me., 1892; Lewiston High School, '09; made numerals in Track (1), (2), (3), (4); Prize Drills, Indian Club (1); Dumb Bell (2); Eurosophian; member Spofford Club (3), (4); President (4); Literary Editor on BATES STUDENT Board; Ivy Day Part, Ode; Episcopalian; Republican; Majors, English, History; degree, A.B.; intended occupation, journalism; address, 88 Howe Street, Lewiston, Me.

IONE BERTHA FALES

"ione"

Here's Ione, our expert zoölogist, mathematician and enthusiastic advocate of Woman's Rights. In truth she is a second Mrs. Pankhurst. "A knock-down argument; 'tis but a word and a blow" and that's the way Ione puts things up to you. She has a wonderful monopoly of Pom's courses and all the cats, dogs, and salamanders flee way into a place of concealment if, perchance, this young lady approaches. And say, you know curiosity once killed a cat. Now perhaps that's how Ione's victim met his fate. Who knows?

Born at Lewiston, Me., Jan. 10, 1893; Jordan High School, '09; member Y. W. C. A.; Pierian; Universalist; Republican; Majors, Mathematics, English, German, Zoölogy; degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Lewiston, Me.

ABRAHAM SELIG FEINBERG

"ABE"

Because of the sympathy which we cannot help but feel for Hall and Abe, we will only mention the fact that they both come from Marshfield. Abe came to us with a noble recommendation as a scholar but the town girls caught sight of his rosy cheeks and curly hair and his studies were forgotten. It is now a well-known fact that he never gets more than four A's out of five courses. Being a young man of ability and honesty he was presented with the managership of this book. To see the other positions he has held one has only to glance at the statistics below and be reminded that he has been an indispensable member of our class.

Born at Boston, Mass., March 5, 1891; Marshfield, Mass., High School, '09; Assistant Manager Tennis (2); made numerals Baseball, Football, Basketball; Captain Intra Collegiate Baseball Team (3); Prize Drill, Broadwords (3); Polymnian; member Parker Hall Association; member Massachusetts Club, Executive Committee (3); charter member Politics Club (3); Secretary (4); Business Manager BATES STUDENT (3); Business Manager MIRROR (4); Sophomore Prize Debate Team (2); member of the Bates vs. Clark Debating Team (4); Drew Medal; member Ivy Day Committee; Chairman Class Executive Committee (3); Class Treasurer (4); Judaism; Progressive; Majors, German, English, History; thesis subject, "The Relation of the United States to the American Mediterranean;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, business; address, Marshfield, Mass.

WALTER RAY FLETCHER

"FLETCH"

"I am Walter Fletcher" . . . etc., ad infinitum. In the first place, Fletch is some (Notice we said some) business man, running an eating club which never suits, and being advertising manager of Filene's store. They wanted him in the firm, but Fletch didn't see a large enough opportunity, after considering it seriously. With all his ability along the business line. Walt never ought to enter the ministry as he seems inclined at present. But then, special deliveries from Malden every other day and the admiration of the fair sex in general would make anyone wear the sack cloth. But be it Business or Ministry, Walt, good luck to you.

Born at Wilton, Me., Dec. 11, 1889; Wilton Academy, '08; entered Bates, 1908; Prize Drills, Dumb Bell (2); Broadswords (3); member Y. M. C. A., Social Committee (4); Pierian; Executive Committee (3); Methodist; Progressive; Major, English; thesis subject, "An Estimate of Mark Twain;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, business; address, Dryden, Me.

JUNE 24. Exams. over. Hurrah! Junior exhibition; Slade carries off the prize.

MILDRED IRENE GOUDY

"MILDRED"

There are probably more apperceptive masses per square unit measure in the folds of Mildred's brain than in any other living person or at least any that we know. Talk about your walking encyclopedias, they aren't in it with her. She's a whole city library and then some. English or Math.: Psychology or German, it's all the same. Even Railroad Gould's courses have no terror for her. And when one has said that, it's useless to say more.

Born at Portland, Me., June 19, 1890; South Portland High School, '08; entered Bates in 1908; Assistant Treasurer Athletic Association (4); member Y. W. C. A.; Polymnian; member Current Events Club, President (4); Congregationalist; Majors, Latin, German, English; thesis subject, "The Claim of Latin and Greek to a place in American Education; degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, 20 Pine Street, South Portland, Me.

GUY HAROLD GOVE

"GOVIE"

And the next to greet you is some Guy at that. He can put the ancient Greek discus thrower in the shade and make more and louder music come forth from his cornet than any one member of Sousa's band. Since rooming in Roger Williams he has decidedly gone to the bad and has added to his curriculum, we are told, an evening course in fussing the frivolous town girls. But where he can find time for this is hard to perceive, for work is Guy's middle name. "Something attempted, something done," should be his motto, for he has earned it.

Born at Smithport, Pa., Jan. 11, 1890; Dexter, Me., High School, '09; member Varsity Baseball Team; made numerals in Baseball, Basketball and Track; made B in Track and Football; member College Band, Leader (4); member College Orchestra, Manager (4); Majors, Mathematics, English, Chemistry; degree, B.S.; intended occupation, chemist; address, Dexter, Me.

JUNE 26. Commencement. Prexie gives reception to Seniors. More wet handkerchiefs as another college year comes to a close.

JEANIE SEWELL GRAHAM

"JEANIE"

And who comes here with steady tread?

'Tis Jeanie.

A rush, a bound, a rippling laugh,

'Tis Jeanie.

A funny hat upon her head,

'Tis Jeanie.

An English shark, a poetess rare

'Tis Jeanie.

A future missionary,

And all of this is Jeanie.

We simply haven't room enough to tell about all of Jeanie's accomplishments. Basketball and singing are two other outlets for her spirit of activity. Jeanie is a wonderful mixture of riotous fun and perfect seriousness. Her duties as Proctor have weighed upon her heavily, but we'll forget that and remember her only in her happy moods as a witty, fun-loving girl.

Born at Bangor, Me., Dec. 5, 1890; fitted for college at Northfield, Mass.; made numerals in Basketball (1), (2), (3), (4); Mandolin Club (3); member Y. W. C. A., Vice-President (3); Polymnian; on Executive Committee (2), (3); Prize Division Debate (2); Ivy Day Speaker, "The Faculty;" Junior Exhibition Speaker; Chairman Prayer Meeting Committee (4); Class Executive Committee (4); Assistant in Oratory (4); Congregationist; Progressive; Majors, English, German, Philosophy, Mathematics; thesis subject, "Theistic Optimism;" degree, A.B.; address, Bethlehem, N. H.

ERNEST HARRISON GRIFFIN

"GRIFF"

Pour la première chose Monsieur Griffin est écolier. Il aime le français beaucoup et nous supposons qu'il peut parler en français aussi bien qu'un Veritable Français. On dit aussi que bientôt il écrira un Dictionnaire Anglais. Nous avons entendu qu'il comprends les grands mots très bien Tout le monde sait qu'il vient de South Portland et que cette ville est unes des plus belles villes au Monde—ainsi dit Ernest. Ernest est un beau joueur de balle. Il a été capitaine pour trois annees et il a travaille beaucoup dans cette position. Vous voulez demander pourquoi nous ecrivons cette piece en français. Demandez à Ernest.

Born at South Portland, Me., Oct. 21, 1888; South Portland High, '09; member of Parker Hall Association; made numerals in Baseball (1), (2); made "B" in baseball (1), (2), (3), (4); Captain baseball (2), (3), (4); played on varsity football team (4); Assistant in Gymnasium (4); Universalist; Republican; Major, French; thesis subject, Rousseau's Service to French Literature;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching and coaching; address, 18 Angell Street, South Portland, Me.

WADE LINCOLN GRINDLE

"Doc"

This blew in from Hancock County; however, that is not the fault of the county. Nevertheless, the county, as far as "Doc" is concerned, has nothing to be sorry for; neither has the class. Of course, he as president of the Student Council, has put most of us in bad with the faculty, but we are kind-hearted and will forgive him.

"Doc" is a quiet man with a twinkle in his eye, a man who keeps still and saws wood, and saws it right, too. The shortcomings of this book are all "Doc's" fault, but then we are all kind-hearted, etc. (P. S. We believe that he waded to Bates and debates. We can't find that he rode.)

Born at South Penobscot, Me., Oct. 19, 1889; George Stevens Academy, Bluehill, Me., '07; entered Bates in 1908; member of Y. M. C. A.; chairman of Employment Committee (3); chairman Membership Committee (4); Northfield delegate (3); member of the Advisory Board (4); Piærian, President (4); member of Student Council, President (4); member Parker Hall Association; charter member of Politics Club (3); Treasurer (4); made numerals, Football (4); Manager Class Track Team (4); Prize Drill, Broadwords (3); member of the Advisory Board, Athletic Association (4); member of Sophomore Prize Debate (2); member of the Bates vs. Clark Debating Team (3); wearer of Drew Medal; member of Debating Council (4); Editor-in-Chief of MIRROR; Chairman of Class Executive Committee (4); Assistant in Oratory (4); Senior Exhibition speaker; Major, History; thesis subject, "Influence of Maine in National Affairs;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, law; address, South Penobscot, Me.

LINCOLN HALL

"LINK"

In the vernacular of the Parcel Post, good things come in small packages and some of them come from Marshfield, Mass. This is a sample. Don't try to kid this young man or you will get the worst of the bargain, for Linc is guaranteed to be able to get anyone's goat on the shortest possible notice. If you need further information in regard to Hall, apply to Dennis and have him tell you about how Linc hadn't been in town over ten minutes when zip went a dime. Except for the fact that he is extravagant in the use of shoe leather on account of losing the last car in from Sabattus at midnight and having to hoof it to Lewiston, he has the hallmarks of good character and is a universal favorite with 1913.

Born at Marshfield, Mass., 1891; Thayer Academy, '09; entered Bates in 1909; Prize Drills, Broadswords (3); member of Y. M. C. A.; Polymnian; member of Parker Hall Association; member of Massachusetts Club, Secretary (3); statistics and personals on the MIRROR Board; Congregationalist; Progressive; Majors, History, German, English; degree, A.B.; intended occupation, textile work; address, Marshfield, Mass.

LORA EDNA HALL

"LORA"

What can it be that makes Lora so quiet? We used to think that she was a little Quakeress and still think so, altho a certain snow-shoe party nearly caused us to change our opinion. Last spring the Dean thought that Lora wasn't very well and so prescribed Eddy's Christian Science in the form of daily walks which seem to have been very successful.

"What we admire we praise and when we praise,
Advance it into notice, that it's worth
Acknowledged, others may admire, too."

We wish we could give you a Fuller opinion of her, but space forbids it.

Born at Dover, Me., Oct. 9, 1889; Foxcroft Academy, '08; member Y. W. C. A. Social Committee (4); Class Vice-President (2); Polymnian; Universalist; Majors, German, French; thesis subject, "The German Gymnasiums;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Foxcroft, Maine.

GLADYS MARIE HOLDEN

"GLADYS"

To the one who doesn't know Gladys we extend our heartfelt sympathy. That one is missing much of the joy of living. From the little town of North Billerica she came to us and if she is a fair sample, Glad surely gives evidence that the inhabitants of that town are well fed, for she doesn't appear to have undergone any of the hardships of starvation. Her face with that broad smile beams as benevolently upon her fellow-beings as does the full moon when it throws its rays upon the grandstand in Garcelon Field.

Born at North Billerica, Mass., July 17, 1891; Howe High School, Billerica, Mass., '09; member Y. W. C. A.; Polymnian; Baptist; Majors, Latin, German, English, Chemistry; thesis subject, "Value of Latin in the German System of Education;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, North Billerica, Mass.

MARY LOUISE HOLMES

"May"

Mary, Mary, quite contrary,
Where has your Joseph gone?
With his flaxen hair,
And his face so fair
And his smiles at the early morn.

Yes, it is too bad he graduated; and while Mary has tried to conceal all her sad thoughts, yet at times we see a somewhat wistful look in her eyes. We thought that perhaps Mary would find more time to study this year, but we still hear the same old story, "I haven't looked at my lesson." Nevertheless, she manages to pull the A's just the same. Mary is always full of business—never has time to wait for anyone—can't go to society because she has to teach night school—can't go to English because of other attractions. We never could understand how she did it all.

Born at Lewiston, Me., Oct. 28, 1891; Jordan High School, '09; made numerals (1); Eurosophian; member City Girls' Association; MIRROR Artist (4); Catholic; Democrat; Majors, English, German, French, Mathematics; thesis subject, "Tennyson, an Artist;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, 49 Chapel Street, Lewiston, Me.

CLIFTON BAILY HOLT

"CLIF"

This man caught Holt of the anchor rope of our class after losing his Holt on those of several of our illustrious predecessors. So much hanging to the aforesaid ropes has stretched the poor boy all out. Clif has gone about as a man apart; in the class and yet not of it. He shuns society life and abhors young ladies unless, perchance, he can get the right Thing. At Chapel, however, he is a regular attendant and we feel that Clif is a young man who has early set his feet in the straight and narrow way.

Born at Durham, Me., Jan. 28, 1890; Jordan High School, Lewiston, '08; entered Bates, 1908; Prize Drill, Broadwords (3); member Y. M. C. A.; Polymnian; member Jordan Scientific Society; Majors, Mathematics, Physics, English, Chemistry; degree, A.B.; address, 34 Vale Street, Lewiston, Me.

HOWARD RAYMOND HOUSTON

"NATE"

With the advent of Nate to our beloved celestial spheroid the population of the hamlet of Bucksport was increased by one. Enticed from the rural quietude and the mural solitude of aforesaid town, Nate got caught in a strong southerly gale, but finally succeeded in making his anchor catch on a Bates matriculation pledge. Nonchalantly lighting a cigarette butt, he coolly exclaimed "In hoc 'cigne' vinces." If you want a good laugh call on Nate and hear his latest joke. To sum up this particular product of evolution is to say that he is jest-er gold old Buck sport.

Born at Bucksport, Me., Aug. 7, 1888; Eastern State Normal School, '07; Hebron Academy, '09; member Varsity Track Team (1), (2), (3), (4); Varsity Cross Country Team (3), (4); made numerals Track (1), (2), (3), (4); made B in Track (4); Musical Association (2), (3), (4); Mandolin Club (2), (3), (4); Banjo Club (3); member Y. M. C. A.; Piærian; member Parker Hall Association; Hancock County Club, President (4); Universalist; Republican; Majors, English, History; thesis subject, "World Struggle for Markets;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, Forestry; address, Bucksport, Me.

MARY ESTHER HUCKINS

"TATTA"

Esther is above all the shining light in scholarship in 1913. Anything below 105 per cent. in an examination is a positive disgrace to her and a string of A's as long as from the Fall of 1909 to the Spring of 1913 marks her progress through college. It is a question whether the Dean will be as successful next year as she has been this year, for Esther graduates and she is the Dean's right hand woman—that is, so we gather from reports of long talks behind closed doors. We don't know so much about Esther as we would like to for if we knew more we could tell more and that is always a pleasure. But this much we know: Esther is a girl with the steadfastness of purpose and ideals which will count for much in the years to come.

Born at Farmington, N. H., July 21, 1889; Austin-Cate Academy, Strafford, N. H., '07; Executive Committee Athletic Association (4); member Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (4); Eurosophian Executive Committee (3); Alumni Editor of STUDENT Board (4); Freshmen Reading Prize (1); General Scholarship Prize (2), (3); Friend; Majors, Latin, German, English; thesis subject, "The Philosophy of Cato Major;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Rochester, N. H.

FRANK JAY HULL

"HULLIE"

It is a great wonder to us how Frank ever reached the senior class, and a minister's son at that. In looking over his history we find that his first two years were spent in hard study, Doc Irish and Capt. Griffin being his helpmates in those childhood days. Since then he has taken it rather easy by adopting all of Pom's courses. Greene claims Hull as one of her rising young farmers, but we believe he is better fitted for a government berth as a Biologist. He is learning to dance and rooms with Dennis, but outside of these failings he is all right.

Born at Valley Springs, South Dakota, Jan. 2, 1890; Lewiston High School, '09; made numerals in Track (2); Polymnian; member Parker Hall Association; Free Baptist; Progressive; Majors, German, Chemistry, Biology; thesis subject, "Sanitation and Public Health;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, sanitary biologist; address, Greene, Me.

SEPT. 27. Senior Geologist accompany Prof. Tubbs on a five-mile hike, ending with a sail on Sabattus Lake.

LEON CHARLES JAMES

"JESSE"

The only thing we have against Jesse James is that he rooms in Roger Williams, but after he graduates he will get over that all right. Now "Jamsie" is some speakist in more ways than one. He is always speaking in all the public contests going on and when he isn't he is generally speaking in public—but there is never any contest for no one else gets a chance. He is efficient in both ways, but the last way weighs the most. We are sorry to hear that Jesse has lost his heart. But then, there is no small loss without some great gain, for nobody will deny that he has had a good deal of healthful exercise as it is quite a long walk way out there on Main Street.

Born at Christiansburg, Va., Sept. 22, 1885; Morristown Normal, '05; made numerals in Track and Football; Polynian; Chairman Executive Committee (4); member Roger Williams Hall Association; Chairman Executive Committee; Freshman Prize Declamations; Sophomore Prize Declamations; Junior Exhibition Speaker; Methodist; Progressive; Majors, English, German; thesis subject, "The Bible in English Literature; degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Christiansburg, Va.

FRANCIS STEVENS JECUSCO

"FRANK"

All the way from Ansonia, in whose preparatory schools he fitted for the fight of life, this citizen of the Nutmeg state came to us. But there is no fake about Jerry and the speed with which he seems to have lost his heart to a Lewiston damoselle, has us all stopped. In his spare moments he studied, played football, looked after his younger brother, Fritz, woke up McNish in time for classes and helped Dan Long run a restaurant. So you see he hasn't had much time to become acquainted with the feminine part of the class.

Born at New York City, April 26, 1888; fitted at Ansonia High School and St. Thomas Seminary; entered Bates in 1909; Roman Catholic; Progressive; Majors, Mathematics, Physics; degree, B.S.; intended occupation, engineering; address, Ansonia, Conn.

OCT. 1. Cave returns to college and things begin to move along more smoothly.

FRANK HAROLD JEWETT

"MANAGER"

Oh! Here's a lady's man for you. He's always so spic and span that you might think that he kept himself in his top bureau drawer, but he doesn't. He's been struck on so many different girls since he has been in college that he's used up all his vocabulary raving about them. We hear that the city has a bill against Frankie for wearing out the pavement on Lisbon Street. Well, never mind, he's not half so bad as this sounds. If he gets after his life work in the spirit with which he shagged baseballs last spring, he'll surely make good.

Born at Dexter, Me., Jan. 30, 1890; Dexter High, '08; entered Bates in 1909; member of Y. M. C. A.; Chairman Membership Committee (3); Northfield Delegate (3); Manager of Baseball (4); wearer of Manager's "B;" Prize Drills, Dumb Bells (2), Broadwords (3); Sophomore Prize Debate (2); Class Treasurer (3); Free Baptist; Republican; Majors, Zoölogy, Chemistry, German, English; degree, A.B.; intended occupation, sanitary biology; address, Dexter, Me., R. F. D. 3.

BEATRICE LEONA JONES

"BEE"

Bee comes from Lynn and goes with Lynne Durrell. We consider this a very brilliant statement. Bee is a very affectionate young lady and an inveterate heart-smasher. She is the indirect cause of the prosperity of the Lewiston and Auburn Street Railway for she lives away over on Auburn Heights and of course that's too far for the boys to walk. Such reports of wonderful chafing dish concoctions that float over the river! We hope that Lynne doesn't have indigestion; but then, it's good practice for Bee, and it's very evident that she will be a good wife for some man, some day, and there really is good cause to envy that man.

Born at Lewiston, Me., Dec. 25, 1889; E. L. H. S., '09; Eurosophian; Secretary (2); member Fireplace Club; member Outside Girls' Association; Catholic; Democrat; Major, English; degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, West Lynn, Mass.

OCT. 4. Piæria serves chafing dish refreshments. Consequently a good crowd out.

LEILA ERDINE JORDAN

"LEILA"

Oh, Leila, when will you stop talking baby talk, cease your silly flirtations and settle down to a serious life? This spirit of hilarity grieves us so and we, as your humble classmates, beseech and pray you to take life more at heart, for a short time at least. But stop—the baby talk is true, the rest pure fiction. Leila is Miss Woodhull's standby as a man in all her Shakespearean scenes and the college standby in every Bible course in the curriculum. We feel sure that when she goes forth on her missionary work that all the poor heathens will bow in meek subjection—and believe.

Born at Caribou, Me., Sept. 15, 1890; Caribou High School, '08; member Y. W. C. A.; Eurosophian; member Girls' Aroostook Club; member Fireplace Club; member Current Events Club; Senior Exhibition Speaker; Methodist Episcopalian; thesis subject, "The Essential Message of Jesus;" Majors, Biblical Literature, English, German; degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Caribou, Me.

WILLIAM RILEY KEMPTON

"KEMP"

This article came out of the wilds of Rangeley. He was green as the first grass of the new year and knew more about watering the horses and the milk than he did about co-eds. and fine arts. But now, friends and countrymen, look upon him and observe the change. Note the eagle eye; that look of intelligence on his brow; yea, the natives point with pride to their prodigy and the county band strikes up "Hail to the Chief" on his arrival. But all joking aside none of us have ever regretted his entrance to 1913.

Born at Rangeley Plantation, Me., Dec. 29, 1889; Rangeley High School, '09; made numerals Track (2), (3), (4); made B in Track (2); (3), (4); member College Band (1); member Y. M. C. A.; Polymnian; member Parker Hall Association; member Jordan Scientific Society; Chairman Executive Committee (4); Free Baptist; Republican; Majors, Mathematics, Chemistry, Physics, German; thesis subject, "Synthetic Gems;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, education; address, Rangeley, Me.

HENRY WADSWORTH LONGFELLOW KIDDER

"KIDDER"

To start at the beginning, Kidder was born,—this being rather essential to his future development. This fact having been published in the Richmond Bee under the sonorous yet poetic epithet of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, this specimen, having successfully graduated from parental interpretation of morality without his own principles being spoiled, entered Bates. No, Henry does not like the fair sex and he does not dance, his interest in college being equally divided between Physics and Chapel. Henry is very sympathetic and never believes in "knocking." But he gives and receives with equal readiness, so he has been and we hope he will continue to be a success.

Born at Richmond, Me., Jan. 7, 1890; Richmond High School, '08; member Varsity Track Team (3); Cross Country Team (4); Class Track Team (3), (4); Class Cross Country Team (3), (4); made numerals Track (3), (4); Vice-President Athletic Association (3); President (4); Judge Sophomore Preliminary Declamations (4); College Quartette (4); member Athletic Advisory Board (4); Chairman Executive Committee of the Musical Association (3); Assistant Manager Musical Clubs (2), (3); Manager (4); member Glee Club (1), (2), (4); member College Band; member Y. M. C. A.; Chairman Handbook Committee (4); Polymnian; member Parker Hall Association; Ivy Day Speaker, "Our Victories;" (3); Class Day Marshal (4); Episcopalian; Progressive; Majors, Economics, Chemistry, Physics; degree, A.B.; intended occupation, business; address, Richmond, Me.

OCT. 7. Kravzoff presides at the I. W. W. meeting. Profs. desert him early.

MELVIN COLBY KNIGHT

"MEL"

(The Personal Editors found themselves somewhat in the dark when they began to write about Knight.) To know he rooms in Roger Williams is enough—but to know that he would like a girl, that's too much. Quiet, prudent, retiring little Knight, how hard he does try to make a brilliant recitation, and how hard he does try to captivate the Co-eds. That's a poor combination. Knight, you'll have to give up one or the other. He makes up in good nature what he lacks in size and if his fondest hopes are ever realized we hope that Fortune will smile benevolently upon him.

Born at Westport, Me., Jan. 2, 1892; Wiscasset Academy, '09; made numerals Football (4); Prize Drills, Indian Club (1); Dumb Bell (2); Broadswords (3); member Y. M. C. A.; Polymnian; Congregational; Democrat; Majors, English, Chemistry; thesis subject, "Aluminum;" Degree A.B.; intended occupation, cotton broker; address, Wiscasset, Me.

MARGUERITE EMMA LOUGEE

"MARGUERITE"

Marguerite Lougee, a name to conjure with! If there is one thing in this doleful world of sin, sorrow and society dues which will alleviate the gloom of being incessantly complimented, it is the serene, sublime effulgence of Maggie's smile. Now there is nothing wrong about a smile like that if Marguerite didn't so insist upon flirting. But Lougees will be Lougees and so you boys will have to make the most of it. But after all, we do admire her ever ready kind words to us poor mortals of this world.

Born at North Parsonfield, Me., July 18, 1890; Parsonfield Seminary, '07; Class Basketball (1), (2), (3), (4); made numerals (1); Glee Club (1), (2), (3), (4); Leader (4); Mandolin Club (1), (2), (3), (4); Leader (4); member Y. W. C. A.; Eurosophian; Music Committee (2), (3), (4); Chairman (4); member Spofford Club (3), (4); Sophomore Prize Declamations; Junior Speaker; Free Baptist; Progressive; Majors, English, German, Mathematics, Chemistry; Degree A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, 141 Nichols St., Lewiston, Me.

NELLIE DELPHINE LOUGEE

"DEL"

For four years we have had detectives watching Delphine to see if that lady ever overstepped the bounds of propriety so far as to smile; but, alas, we have come to the conclusion that she has never gone thus far astray. No joke, however brilliant, on herself or otherwise, can elicit a flicker on the face of this lady. She is as stern as a wooden Indian, as passive as a summer's morning and as dignified as a marble column. She is one of the strongest supports of Eurosophian Society and for her hard work in that behalf we give her all praise.

Born at North Parsonsfield, Me., July 18, 1890; Parsonsfield Seminary, '07; Girls' Glee Club (1), (2), (3), (4); member Y. W. C. A.; Eurosophian; Flower Committee (2); Music Committee (3); member Fireplace Club; Free Baptist; Progressive; Majors, English, German, Chemistry, French; thesis subject, "Evolution of Language;" Degree A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, 141 Nichols St., Lewiston, Me.

Oct. 10. Everybody goes to Music Hall to see electric ball game.

EDITH MARGUERITE MACOMBER

"EDE"

Edith came to college in the "Nick" of time (this was inserted at his suggestion), was coralled on the first day of her freshmen year and has been tied up to Paul ever since. Evidently she is a born leader for not only has she led the basketball team in the years of their championships, but the Medford boy as well has come under her sway. Moving pictures and Nickersonian actions are her favorite amusements.

P. S. Paul wanted to write up Edith but space wouldn't permit.

This has special reference to Rand Hall radiators.

Born at Winthrop, Me., Feb. 6, 1892; Gardiner, Me., High School, '09; Captain Class Basketball Team (1), (2), (3), (4); President Girls' Athletic Association (4); Manager Girls' Glee Club (3); member Y. W. C. A.; Polymnian; member Current Events Club; member Fireplace Club; Freshmen Prize Declamations, First Prize; Sophomore Declamations, Honorable Mention; Assistant in Gymnasium (3), (4); Methodist; Progressive; Majors, Latin, German, English; thesis subject, "Livy's Position Among World's Historians;" Degree A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Winthrop, Me.

FRANKLIN HENLEY MANTER

"CUB"

It gives us the greatest pleasure to present to you, for your unqualified admiration and approval, Mr. Franklin Henley Manter of Whitefield, N. H. Said gentleman may be characterized by a smile of self-satisfaction, derby hat pushed back as far as possible, a light brown mackinaw, with the belt hanging and the near presence of one of the fair sex or Mr. J. H. Dickson, Jr. The way these two boys sit by the hour and laugh at each other's jokes—well, it keeps them out of mischief anyway, and you know that there is no trouble "bruin." Hunt up that necessary complement of life, "Cub," and settle quietly down; life is not one long, care-less melodrama.

Born at Milton, N. H., 1892; Whitefield, N. H. High School, '09; made numerals in Football (4); Prize Drill, Indian Club (1), Dumb Bell (2); member College Band; Glee Club; member of Mandolin and Banjo Clubs; member Y. M. C. A.; Executive Committee; Piaerian; member Press Club; Secretary-Treasurer (4); Class Day Speaker; Address to Halls and Campus; Free Baptist; Democrat; Majors, German, English, Chemistry; Degree A.B.; intended occupation, business; address, Whitefield, N. H.

JOHN FRANK McDANIEL

"JOHN MAC"

Here he is, the reprobate of the class and President of the Y. M. C. A. all in one. We simply cannot understand his villainous actions and the language he uses—we wouldn't dare to print it even in Lewiston. A few omniscient persons like the editors of this book would know these things of which mention has been made, but any one else who ever knew John would tell you that he was a quiet, modest fellow whom everyone liked for his character and disposition. Always that same warm-hearted chap who makes friends by simply being what he is. Of course you can think what you want to of him, but remember he comes from East Barrington which in our minds is the worst thing we know about him, but perhaps that's not his fault.

Born at Nottingham, N. H., Sept. 7, 1889; New Hampton Literary Institute, '09; Prize Drill, Indian Club (1); member Y. M. C. A.; Bible Study Committee (3); Vice-President (3); President (4); Northfield Delegate (3); member Roger Williams Hall Association; Vice-President (3); Polymnian, Vice-President (3); President (4); Freshman Prize Declamations; Sophomore Prize Declamations; Ivy Day Chaplain; Class Day Chaplain; member Class Executive Committee (4); Free Baptist; Progressive; Majors, English, Philosophy, Mathematics; thesis subject, "John Milton;" Degree A.B.; intended occupation Y. M. C. A. work; address, East Barrington, N. H., R. F. D. No. 1.

JAMES FRANCIS McNISH

"Mac"

Many are called but few get up. Is this why you always come into class late, Mac, or is it to create an impression and to get a smile from the co-eds? We have had a great deal of inside information concerning Ansonia since Mac arrived and are led to believe that it must be some place. Yet if Mac has faults they are exceedingly few and his loyalty to his college and class make up for those few. If you only buck away at the world as you did at the opposing lines last fall, success and prosperity will be yours.

Born at Ansonia, Conn., 1890; Ansonia High School, '08; made numerals in Track; made B in Football (4); Prize Drill, Indian Club (1); Roman Catholic; Majors, German, Zoölogy; thesis subject, "Suderman's Realism;" Degree A.B.; intended occupation, Medicine; address, 21 Cedar St., Ansonia, Conn.

LILLIAN BESSIE MILLS

"LILLIAN"

Her voice was ever gentle, soft and low.
An excellent thing in woman.

This little couplet was surely written for Lillian, for she has the sweetest, gentlest little voice you ever heard. Lillian is one of the babies of the class and if it wasn't for her bright hair it might be difficult to find her sometimes, but with that, you can spot her immediately. She's a quiet little mite too, but if you think she hasn't any spirit you just ought to hear her make a speech at Society. As for Box Parties at the Empire, Lillian is right there, too, and there's one box in particular that she's had monopoly on for at least two seasons.

Born at Bridgewater, N. H., March 3, 1890; Concord, N. H., High School, '09; member Y. W. C. A.; Cabinet; Piaerian; member Fireplace Club; member New Hampshire Club; Senior Exhibition Speaker; Episcopalian; Majors, Latin, German, English, Mathematics; thesis subject, "Rome's Debt to Greece;" Degree A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Concord, N. H., R. F. D. No. 17.

ARTHUR CHESTER MORRISON

"ART"

Arthur came within an ace of getting his clearing papers with the class of 1912, but the doctors knew that the best was none too good for him and so ordered him to come back into our class. And it's glad we are to get him, too, even if his hair is near Lewiston; don't blame him if he didn't pick it out. The Editor has known Art quite intimately for four years and the only thing that has ever been found that would tempt him in the least is to mention "Tixty Tree" and that never fails to bring him.

Born at Ashland, N. H., Oct. 8, 1886; Plymouth, N. H. High School, '04; entered Bates, 1908; Prize Drill, Indian Club (1); College Band (1), (4); Glee Club (1), (4); Polymnian; member Y. M. C. A.; Secretary (2); Executive Committee (3), (4); member Jordan Scientific Society (3), (4); Executive Committee (4); Class Treasurer (2); Assistant in Gymnasium (2), (3), (4); Baptist; Progressive; Majors, English, Chemistry, German; thesis subject, "Synthetic Foods;" Degree, A.B.; intended occupation, Y. M. C. A. work; address, Ashland, N. H.

Oct. 24. Student Council bleeds the Assembly for twenty-five cents or at least "them as has it."

PAUL SUMNER NICKERSON

"Nick"

"He converses with her and with her alone. All others were to him as though they were not there." Oh, Paul, we fear that she comest between thee and thy books too often. But take this advice, Nick, if you find a lady who pleases you very much and you wish to marry her, you do it. Paul is always so shy and ill-at-ease in company, we recommend a glass of moxie now and then. He usually makes a good impression because of his command of the English language. We hope he will never be embarrassed by being asked the meaning of some of his polly-syllables. A class is always glad to have a lad like Nick and we wouldn't part with him for all the dictionaries in America.

Born at Everett, Mass., Nov. 8, 1892; Melrose High School, '09; made numerals in Track (1); Baseball (2); Tennis (3), (4); Football (4); Varsity Tennis Team (3), (4); President Musical Association (4); member College Band (1), (2), (3), (4); member Glee Club (2), (3), (4); Leader (4); member Mandolin (3), (4); Polymnian; member Parker Hall Association; member Roger Williams Hall Association (1); Massachusetts Club; Personal and Statistic Editor on Mirror Board; Ivy Day Speaker, "Co-Eds;" Chairman Class Day Committee; Junior Exhibition Speaker; Senior Exhibition Speaker; Congregational; Progressive Republican; Majors, English, History; thesis subject, "Arbitration Instead of War;" Degree A.B.; intended occupation, Pedagogy; address, 30 Dudley St., Medford, Mass.

WALTER JOHNSON PENNELL

"JACK"

Jack is noted for getting more music out of that one note he plays in the band than any other member of that noisome aggregation, except Kidder who beats the bass drum. They say Jack is some man with the ladies and altho co-education is not in his category, yet he seems to find means of passing the twilight hours profitably. The tinkle and charm of that mandolin increase his chances with the women but do not seem to help him much in Monie's classes. We wish we had known you better, Jack, but if you will spend all your time in your room, studying (?) it is not our fault.

Born at Auburn, Me., Feb. 14, 1892; Kingfield, Me., High School, '09; made numerals in Football (4); Prize Drills, Indian Club (1); Dumb Bell (2); member College Band; Glee Club; member of Mandolin and Banjo Clubs; Majors, English, Chemistry, Biology; thesis subject, "Weissman's Theory of the Continuity of the Germ Plasm;" Degree A.B.; intended occupation, Medicine; address, Kingfield, Me.

LULENE AURA PILLSBURY

"Lu"

This is Pillsbury's best and so far we have found the article is right up to standard. This "flower" was grown on a farm in northern Maine and we recommend it as being the best bre(a)d in the market. Country girls always do have the household arts down to perfection. Lu certainly has made a record in her college course by looking at just one fellow and only occasionally indulging at that. But then she has spent so much time being on committees, serving in various offices and being a friend to everyone that she hasn't had time for fussing and such trivialities. Lu is one of those sensible, all round girls whom one is proud to have as a friend.

Born at Rangeley, Me., May 24, 1892; Rangeley High School, '09; Manager Hockey (4); member Y. W. C. A.; Cabinet (4); member Fireplace Club; member Current Events Club; Prize Declamations (1); Junior Exhibition Speaker (3); Class Vice-President (4); Assistant Proctor at Whittier House (3); Free Baptist; Majors, English, German, Zoölogy; thesis subject, "Tennyson's Interpretation of Life;" Degree, A.B.; intended occupation, Y. W. C. A. Secretary; address, Rangeley, Me.

JOSEPH EDWIN PLUMSTEAD

"PLUM"

Joe heard the country (not country's) call and bidding a tearful (?) farewell to his horses and other books, neglecting his Club and leaving that ancient ruin, Parker Hall, he embarked on the 6 P.M., car bound Bathward. According to the latest reports from the front, situated at Crowley's, Joe had met the enemy and she was his. Plum has likewise captured our hearts and at times satisfied our hunger. Managerships seem to be his strong point and together with Griffin we agree that South Portland should be rightly proud of Joseph.

Born at Wiscasset, Me., March 17, 1891; South Portland High School, '09; Manager Football Team (4); Wearer of Manager's B, made numerals in Football (4); Prize Drill, Broadsword (3); member Student Council (2), (3); Manager Science Hall Club (2), (3), (4); Free Baptist; Democrat; Majors, German, Mathematics, Chemistry; thesis subject, "Radioactivity;" Degree A. B.; intended occupation, Chemistry; address, 67 Mothly St., Woodfords, Me

OCT. 28. Johnson, Progressive candidate for Vice-President, speaks at City Park.

MABEL LOVELAND RACKLIFFE

"MABEL"

Who would believe that this very quiet, unassuming miss from New Britain, Conn., is an ardent advocate of Woman Suffrage, that she is forever and eternally arguing on Woman's Rights? Outside of this fact, namely, that she is a suffragette, she has no questionable qualities. A good summary of her character would be to call her Sunny Jim, for she has the smile that won't come off, so the boys say. We think it must be characteristic of Connecticut people to be late, for Mabel is nearly as bad as McNish about getting anywhere on time. However, we can overlook this because we know there must always be a good reason for it, else Mabel wouldn't do it.

Born at New Britain, Conn., May 3, 1890; New Britain High School, '09; member Class Basketball Team (1), (2), (3), (4); member Musical Association; Glee Club; Mandolin Club; member Y. W. C. A.; Euro-sophian; member Fireplace Club; member Current Events Club; Secretary-Treasurer (4); Christian Science; Progressive; Majors, German, English, Mathematics; thesis subject, "Comparison Between 'Song of the Bell' and 'The Building of the Ship';" Degree A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, 30 Cambridge St., New Britain, Conn.

ALETHA ROLLINS

"Al"

The beautiful and well-managed municipality of Lewiston has donated much to the ranks of 1913. This young lady is one of the aforesaid contributions. If a judicious use of the ballot is to be a necessary qualification of the future woman, Aletha will sure be some politician. She has been on about every committee the class has had since its birth, and ought to know how things should be run. Notice we said things not men. Aletha says it is easy enough to manage the former, but as for the latter we believe that no one can manage them, which said belief is based upon the fact that Aletha can't do it.

Born at Lynn, Mass., Feb. 4, 1892; Lewiston High School, '09; made numerals in Basketball (3), (4); Piaerian; member Spofford Club (3), (4); Secretary-Treasurer (3); member Fireplace Club; Assistant Editor Bates Student (2); Personal and Statistic Editor on Mirror Board (4); Ivy Day Ode; Class Day Poem; Class Executive Committee (4); Congregational; Progressive; Majors, German, French; thesis subject, "Germany's National Epic 'The Nibelungen Lied';" Degree A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, 84 Wood St., Lewiston.

Nov. 2. First Maine intercollegiate cross country run. Maine, Bowdoin, Bates, Colby. We weren't last, anyway.

BERNARD ROSS

"Ross"

Ross has worked a skin game on us and we protest that he is getting too much for his money. He had his picture in last year's MIRROR and here it is again. He is not like the bad penny that always returns, though, but just some of the good material left over from 1912. We can't find anything to slam Bernard on, for he hasn't been with us long enough to find out his failings, but we know that he is a quiet, unpretentious sort of a chap who minds his own business and minds it well.

Born at Lisbon Falls, Me., Feb. 28, 1891; Lisbon Falls High, '08; entered with class of 1912; member Y. M. C. A.; member Roger Williams Hall Association; Free Baptist; Republican; Majors, English, Chemistry; Degree, A.B.; intended occupation, educational work; address, Lisbon, Me.

LOUISE FRANCES SAWYER

"Loc"

Louise says the Central Maine General Hospital is the best in the United States. Perhaps we can't all agree with this, but we will have to admit that there are some nice young M.D.'s down there. Don't blush, Lou-we-Saw-yer out walking one day. Now Lou really is quite harmless, but when she scowls she is terrifying. You expect to be eaten on the spot. Alas for the children Lou will instruct in the ways of education. (She says she's going to teach five years, but there's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip). Lou is an all-round good fellow and if there is any cure for the blues, it's this young lady with her soul of wit and her gift of rapid-fire conversation.

Born at Easton, Me., Jan. 15, 1891; Lewiston High School, '09; member Y. W. C. A., Membership Committee (1), (2), (3), (4); Piærian, Secretary (2); member Fireplace Club (4); Sophomore Prize Declamations (2); Class Vice-President (1); Baptist; Progressive; Majors, German, French; thesis subject, "Emancipation of the German Woman;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, 70 Elm Street, Lewiston, Me.

WILLIAM HAYES SAWYER, JR.

"BILL."

And yet withal a quiet man who some day is going to be a professor of Biology at Bates. A conscientious and serious worker who doesn't believe in co-education or societies. Bill is a relative of Pom., which accounts for his love of work and for the time he spends in Carnegie Hall. Rumors of a love affair have often been rampant, but Bill is as silent as the Sphinx and even non-pluses the faculty. His greatest pastime is catching cats and exercising Gordon Cave, and he is equally proficient in both.

Born at Limington, Me., Feb. 4, 1892; Limington Academy, '09; made numerals, Baseball (2), Track (3), (4), Cross Country Team (3), (4); member Y. M. C. A.; member Parker Hall Association; member Jordan Scientific Society, Secretary (4); Assistant in Biology (4); Universalist; Progressive; Majors, German, Chemistry, Biology; thesis subject, "Eugenics;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, sanitary biology; address, Cornish, Me., R. F. D. No. 1.

Nov. 4. Boys exercise their franchise to-day; some for the first time.

GEORGE MERVIL SEELEY

"GEORGE"

Early in that dim and far away September, to wit, 1909, "Jawge" meandered quietly through the lot to the north of Skinner and east of College streets, and removing the wisp of Aroostook straw from between his biscusped, he proceeded on the four years' job of sprouting some wisdom teeth. Along with the wisp of straw Jawge brought a definite amount of determination and by consistent efforts has become one of our most thorough and careful students.

Born at Houlton, Me., May 28, 1892: Houlton High School, '09; made numerals, Football (4); Prize Drill, Dumb Bell (2), Broadswords (3); member Y. M. C. A.; Piærian; member Roger Williams Hall Association, President (4); member Aroostook Club (1), (2), (3), (4); Vice-President (3), President (4); member Jordan Scientific Society (4); Assistant in Chemistry (4); Free Baptist; Majors, English, Chemistry; thesis subject, "Synthetic Chemistry;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, West Kennebunk, Me.

RAY ARTHUR SHEPARD

"SHEP"

"The Shepard, a mighty man is he." And it came to pass that Shepard passed and great was the rejoicing among the students. And so endeth the Freshman year and the mighty city of Gardiner received their hero with shouts and great tumult. And so it happened likewise the Sophomore year that he gathered to his side still another "B." Yet cast he not his eyes on any maiden, for he was wise beyond his years. And with new determination returned he a Junior and bore him off a medal of gold from the goodly city of Brunswick. And unto him for faithful work were awarded many "A's" and many "B's" by the Faculty. And thus he became a Senior, honored among men. And what more need the Scribes relate?

Born at Gardiner, Me., May 1, 1890; Gardiner High, '09; Polymnian; member Parker Hall Association, Chairman Executive Committee (4); made "B" in Track (1), (2), (3), (4); Captain Track Team (4); made "B" in Baseball (3); made "B" in Football (1), (2), (4); Episcopalian; Progressive; Majors, Chemistry, History, English; thesis subject, "Paper Making;" degree, B.S.; intended occupation, teaching; address, 495 West Street, Gardiner, Me.

WILLIAM FRANKLIN SLADE

"BILL"

"Some men are born great, some achieve greatness and some have greatness thrust upon them." This man was born great. His greatness rests not only in his philosophical and scientific ability, but also in his abundance of that misnamed article Common Sense. We fail to see how this Institution or even the Cosmic Universe is ever going to run without the aid of Bill. His stronghold is Philosophy and though he likes a good argument once in a while, never loses his self control. While we see little of him except at classes, we know that he is always agreeable and will have friends wherever he goes.

Born at Chelsea, Mass.; fitted at East Boston High and Bangor Theological Seminary; entered Bates in 1911; member Y. M. C. A.; member Politics Club (4); member of the Bates vs. Colgate Debating Team (4); Drew medal; Junior Exhibition Speaker, First Prize; Senior Exhibition Speaker; Assistant in History and Economics (3), (4); General Scholarship Prize (3); Peace Oration Contest, State Champion; Congregationalist; Progressive; Major, English; thesis subject, "Infinite Personality;" degree, A.B.; address, Gray, Me.

FRANK EUGENE SLEEPER, JR.

"Doc"

The time is coming when the great monarchs will not only favor and support athletics, but will be athletes themselves, in so far as their bodily powers and numerous outside pursuits will permit. A shining example of this future Royal Athlete is Doc, the King of Sabattus. If he can't make good in the high jump or shot put, there is some hope for him in the potato race. If all of us had the grit and determination that Doc has shown, old Bates would have more than one Track championship to her credit, and no kidding, either. Doc is little, but oh my! When he says he is going to do a thing he does it. He made them all toe the mark at Starkey and he would at Bates, if he made up his mind to.

Born at Sabattus, Me., Sept. 5, 1890; Starkey Seminary, Lakemont; member Adelpian Association; Eurosophian; Free Baptist; Progressive; Majors, Chemistry, English, Biology; thesis subject, "Surgery, Past, Present and Future;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, "Medicine;" address, Sabattus, Me.

ALICE CAREY SMITH

"SMITHY"

This is Alice, the first of the 57 varieties of Smiths, yet the only one of those in question who owns up to having found the way here from Ashland. Alice for four years has been a prominent worker in the anti- (pronounced aren't I) matrimonial society, and a leading advocate of social-ism (ism meaning life). How she survives that six o'clock rule, though, we can't conceive for it "stints" her exceedingly. If there are any more in Ashland like you, Alice, send them to Bates for there will always be room for them.

Born at Ashland, N. H., Sept. 16, 1889; New Hampton Institute, '09; member Y. W. C. A.; Manager Croquet (4); Pierian; member New Hampshire Club; member Fireplace Club; Senior Exhibition Speaker; Free Baptist; Majors, English, German; thesis subject, "The Friendship of Goethe and Schiller; degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Ashland, N. H.

Nov. 13. "Rail Road" entertains the Politics Club. Peachy is errand boy. Flunks served up for refreshments.

MARY ELIZABETH SMITH

"MARY"

Center Sandwich is a fine place, splendid family. Mary comes from that family. Strange name, isn't it? We all like that smile, Mary, but the class can't pay for the camera that took it. But alas! (it must be mentioned, is he coming down to Commencement, Mary?) We really should like to see him before you leave us, and co-education, forever. Mary can make good biscuits because she has taken Domestic Science, but she says she expects him to make the "dough," though her being college bre(a)d ought to help some, too (two). Our best wishes go with you, Mary.

Born at Sandwich, N. H., April 2, 1892; Concord, N. H., High School, '09; made numerals (1), (2), (3), (4) Class Basketball Team; Manager Tennis (4); Girls' Glee Club (3), (4); Mandolin Club (1), (2), (3), (4); member Y. W. C. A.; Chairman Social Committee (4); member Piæria; Assistant Secretary (2); Flower Committee (4); member Current Events Club; member Fireplace Club; member New Hampshire Club; Baptist; Progressive; Majors, Latin, German; thesis subject, "Martial as a Delineator of the Life of His Times;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Sandwich, N. H.

RUTH EVELYN SMITH

"RUTH"

Now just look at her! You wouldn't think she was such an awful flirt, would you? We heard once that Ruth got a call down from headquarters for taking too much notice of the sons of Adam. (This is pure sarcasm). Ruth is a mighty fine girl with all sorts of nice ideas tucked up in her head and more than once she has shown her spirit by a firm stand for the square deal.

Born at Gorham, Me., Sept. 30, 1890; Gorham High School, '06; member Y. W. C. A.; Chairman Social Service Committee (4); Polymnian; member Fireplace Club; member Current Events Club; Junior Exhibition Speaker; Congregationalist; Majors, Latin, German, English; thesis subject, "Characteristics of Early Roman Religion;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Gorham, Me.

ALICE THING

"ALICE"

Behold, the premier actorine of the class. She has been the leading man in many of the Shakesperian plays produced by the Fireplace Club and we feel confident that she has a brilliant future before her. She is an ardent enthusiast in Pom-ology. We don't know whether it is because she likes the course or that the family ties hold her there. Alice might be called the Jovial Jester, for she is always good humored and ready to spring a joke. During her college course her motto has been "To Have and to Holt."

Born at Limerick, Me., January 25, 1889; Limerick Academy, '05; member Y. W. C. A.; Eurosophian; member Current Events Club; member Fireplace Club; Congregationalist; Democrat; Majors, English, German, Biology; thesis subject, "Scientific Examination of Luther Burbank;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Limerick, Me.

EMMA RACHEL THING

"RAY"

How well we remember the puns the Profs. used to make on "Ray's" name when we were Freshmen. But we soon found out that Rachel wasn't the only Thing in the class, even if Joe did think so. Rachel is always so sedate and dignified and tries so hard to set a good example for the underclassmen. She is industrious, yea, so industrious that we wonder how she and Joe find so much time for each other. However, we are all glad she came to Bates, even if she does show a little leaning for bicycle riding and a little partiality for Joe.

Born at Denver, Col., Jan. 22, 1884; Limerick Academy, '02; member Y. W. C. A.; Prayer Meeting Committee (3), (4); Eurosophian; Senior Exhibition Speaker; General Scholarship (2), (3), (4); Congregationalist; Republican; thesis subject, "What Are Classics?"; degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, Limerick, Me., R. F. D. No. 50.

Nov. 21. Marianna's funeral takes place in the Parker Hall Cemetery with all religious rites and ceremonies.

THOMPSON

"TOMMY"

In our class there is a lad
Ray Thompson is his name;
He shows an inclination
Toward a certain Auburn dame.

This youth has many accomplishments.
He can sing and play and dance
In Football, Track, in Glee Club, too,
He has never lost a chance.

He works quite hard the livelong time.
In Committees, Athletics, Books
He may often have troubles, though these he conceals.
And he greets all with smiling looks.

Born at Lewiston, Me., Nov. 1, 1890; Lewiston High School, '09; Captain class relay team (1), (2), (3), (4); made "B" in Football (2), (3), (4); Track (3), (4); made numerals in Track (1), (2), (3), (4); in Baseball (2); member The Advisory Board Athletic Association (3); Glee Club (3), (4); Mandolin Club (4); Eurosophian; Athletic Editor on MIRROR Board; Chairman Ivy Day Committee; Class President (4); Assistant in Gymnasium (3), (4); Methodist; Republican; Majors, French, Chemistry; thesis subject, "Influence of the French Literature of the 18th Century;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, athletic director and teacher; address, 582 Main Street, Lewiston, Me.

KATHLENE HELEN TUTTLE

"KATHLENE"

Kathlene is one of those noisy girls who is always making a great disturbance. She is everlastingly rushing round, like a hen with her head cut off and then, besides, she talks so loud in class that we all have been in danger of being deafened. Well, now we will talk sense a while just for the novelty of it. Kathlene certainly has made herself a bit scarce during these four years and from all appearance she doesn't believe in fussing. But that to the loss of the sterner sex. She is a true friend, a good student and we wish her luck as bright as her golden hair.

Born at Auburn, Me., April 17, 1892; fitted for college at Richmond, Va., High School and at E. L. H. S.; member Mandolin Club (4); Euro-sophian; member Fireplace Club; member Outside Girls' Association; Universalist; Progressive; Majors, German, English; thesis subject, "The Passion Play at Oberammergau;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, 28 James Street, Auburn, Me.

JOSEPH DYER VAUGHAN

"JOE"

We could tell a good deal about Joe in respect to one or two Things. The first Thing is a sister to the second and (according to Joe) is the more important. About the second Thing we must remain silent or else give Joe back his fifty cents, for we cannot betray our trust. It is reported that Joe got into a mix-up with the Faculty because they charged him with rental of the Milliken House parlor. They found their mistake only to charge him rent for Carnegie Hall. Joe is certainly a hard worker and has made good in every-Thing he has tried, especially Math, Pom's courses and Rachel.

Born at Strong, Me., Sept. 7, 1890; Norridgewock, Me., High School, '08; entered Bates in 1908; member Y. M. C. A.; Eurosophian; Vice-President (3); Chairman Executive Committee (4); member Roger Williams Hall Association; member Jordan Scientific Society; Credential Committee; member of the Sophomore Prize Debating Team; Champion Debater; member of the M. HELEN VOSE

"HELEN"

Was there ever an athletic contest that Helen missed, even though it were held in Mechanics Hall, Boston, or in the backwoods at Orono? And yet had Sabattus not been so near Bates, we should have lost her. She and Doc Sleeper have often been royal entertainers and consequently the peaceful realm of Sabattus has many times been invaded by college students. Her popularity is unquestioned but her affections have remained fixed on Dr. Tubbs and Tommy and her loyalty has been for her class and her Alma Mater to-be. In conclusion it would be fair to say that at times "That Vose girl" has seemed quite eligible for honorary membership in the Massachusetts Club.

Born at Amesbury, Mass., Dec. 7, 1891; Jordan High School, '09; Manager Basketball (4); made numerals in Basketball (2), (3), (4); member Mandolin Club (3), (4); Eurosophian; Executive Committee (4); member Fireplace Club; member Outside Girls' Club; Personal and Statistic Editor on MIRROR Board (4); Class Vice-President (3); Class Secretary (4); Universalist; Republican; Majors, French, German; thesis subject, "The Position of Woman in French Society of To-Day;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, "Agriculture;" address, Sabattus, Me.

WILLIAM AUGUSTINE WALSH

"BILL"

All who have heard this stern-appearing person-age orate cannot help but realize that he is a born orator. At the early date of 1890 he was first heard from and with regret we must announce that up to date he hasn't out-grown the infantile habit. Some one stated that Walsh came to college with the expressed purpose of reforming the place but we rather think that he is the one to receive the reformation. At any rate Bill has obtained much good from the college and vice versa. May you, as an alumnus, show your true worth, Bill.

Born at Lewiston, Me., February 2, 1890; Lewiston High School, '09; Pierian, Sophomore Prize Declamations; Class Day Orator (4); Junior Exhibition Speaker; Roman Catholic; Democrat; Majors, English, German; thesis subject, "A Tragedy of Hamlet;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, business; address, 8 Wood Street, Lewiston, Me.

AMY LOUISE WEEKS

"Amy"

Notice that tall, dark-haired, stately maiden with a green book bag under one arm, a mandolin under the other, as she walks cross the campus with a firm and steady stride. What a disgrace it would be if her hat shouldn't be on straight or if her shoe-string should be untied. And what if she should be a minute late and should have to run to class in consequence! Observe her hair; every strand in place and her spotless collar—Oh, why aren't there more people like Amy! She who

Never misses a recitation,
Never told a lie,
But is always ready for vacation,
Can anyone tell us why?

Born at Lewiston, Me., January 29, 1891; E. L. H. S., '09; member Girls' Glee Club (1); member Girls' Mandolin Club, Manager (4); Euro-sophian; member Spofford Club (4); member Outside Girls' Association; member Fireplace Club; Class Day Speaker; Prophecy for Women; Universalist; Progressive; Majors, English, German; thesis subject, "What Is an American Literature?"; degree, A.B.; intended occupation, teaching; address, 220 Turner Street, Auburn, Maine.

RUBY DOROTHY WHITEHOUSE

"RUBY"

Ruby is half of that sensible pair of twins of which Lulene is the other half. Their friendship is of the Castor and Pollux variety. And yet Lulene isn't the only friend Ruby can boast. We would tell you all about it if we knew but that's just the trouble, we don't know. We do know, though, that Ruby likes to have it snow in the winter time so she can go sleigh-riding. Unfortunately, last winter was not very propitious and although we did all in our power to help out by presenting her with some artificial snow at our Christmas tree, we are afraid that our little offering didn't do much to fan the flame.

Born at North Leeds, Me., July 2, 1890; Monmouth Academy, '07; Pierian; member Fireplace Club; member Current Events Club; Congregationalist; Majors, German, English, Mathematics; thesis subject, "Religion of Goethe as Shown by Faust;" degree, A.B.; address, Monmouth, Maine.

CLINTON DONNELLY WILSON

"Bug"

Age, 15; height, 4 hands; weight, 95 pounds. Bug is a fine fellow—that is, the part of him that is here in Lewiston, for you know he has been trying to educate himself in two colleges, his heart and his cerebrum at Radcliffe, the rest of him at Bates. This accounts for the weight given above. The age is as stated because he does not count the years before he met her or the time he is away from her. (Which, by the way, hasn't been much). His true height is the height of his ambition, but as we just referred to her we wont repeat. Our one regret is that we haven't had the whole of Don, for we surely have enjoyed the part we have had.

Born at South Hartford, N. Y., February 7, 1890; Plymouth, N. H., High School, '09; member Varsity Track Team (1), (2); made numerals in Track (1), (2); member Y. M. C. A.; Polymnian; member Parker Hall Association; College Press Club, President (4); Class Day Committee (4); Congregational; Progressive Republican; Majors, English, History, thesis subject, Tennyson's "In Memoriam;" degree, A.B.; intended occupation, journalism; address, 7 Summer Street, Lancaster, Mass.

GLADYS LEONA WOODMAN

"GLADYS"

This picture shows such a small section of Gladys that you really can't get a good idea of her true proportion. There's a lot to Gladys in more ways than one. Just to see her laugh does one's heart good. We haven't seen a great deal of her round Bates except at the recitations. Well, there's a reason, but we're not going to let out any secrets. Probably you will see it in the papers, soon.

Born at Auburn, Me., 1890; E. L. H. S., '09; Eurosophian; Universalist; Progressive; Major, German; thesis subject, "The Present German Emperor;" degree, A.B.; address, Auburn, Me., R. F. D. No. 6.

HARRY ANDREWS WOODMAN

"PECKER"

How Harry ever survived the sanctified air of Roger Williams on first coming to college we don't know. But because of his fine physical constitution he escaped serious inoculation and fled to the college proper just in time. The laziest man in the class, that's Pecker; the most versatile man in the class, that's Pecker; the man who picks invariably the cinch courses and gets away with them, same guy; the fellow with the most peculiar and exacting appetite, ditto. And to close the list, if there's anything the class wants done in the Athletic line, Pecker's the Boy. It is also reported that Pecker is some fusser. All in all, he ought to reach the three score and ten mark in a pretty satisfactory manner.

PHANTOM ROLL

BARNARD ALLEN

We wish that Allen could have stayed with us, but we know that it wasn't through the desire of the faculty that he left us. The Glee Club brought back the news that Allen seemed to be in good health and so we are wondering why he spends so much time at the Concord hospital.

Born at Wilton, Me., 1891; Wilton Academy, '08; left college during Sophomore year; Manager Class Track Team (1); Piarian; Secretary of Roger Williams Hall Association (1); Baptist; Republican; present occupation, Manager Sulzberger Bros. Co., Provision Warehouse, Concord, N. H.; address, 9 Hills Avenue, Concord, N. H.

DANIEL SHEEHAN DEXTER

"DANNIE"

In the fall of 1909 many a weary Freshman had said "Beyond the Alps lies Italy." The Bates Alps proved too much for Dannie and after two attempts he gave up and left us to journey on without him. We have missed him as only a Daniel could be missed. Already he has outclassed some of us and bids fair to be a successful newspaper man of the next generation.

Born at Portland, Me., June 7, 1890; Lewiston High School, '08; made numerals in Track; Eurosophian; Ivy Day Marshal; Episcopalian; Republican; intended occupation, journalism; address, 32 Bartlett Street, Lewiston, Me.

GEORGE RONELLO DOLLOFF

"Cy"

And in the year 1911, A. D., there departed from our midst one George Ronello Dolloff of Wiscasset, Me. Now this is not an epitaph by any means, for according to the girls of the Congregational Church, George was far from being a dead one. His stay with us was short, but the memories that remain are sweet.

Born at New Gloucester, Me., May 15, 1892; New Gloucester High, '09; entered Bates, 1909; member Y. M. C. A.; Pierian; Congregational; Democrat; intended occupation, teaching and law; address, Wiscasset, Maine.

EDNA DYER

It was better to have known her and lost her than never to have known her at all. She left us for better or for worse and is now teaching in Anson. She says she will always stand up for Bates, but is it within human possibility to stand up for Bates and Bowdoin at the same time? We wish she hadn't left us, but even if she has been gone two years, we cannot forget her happy smile and winning ways.

Born at Portland, Me., June 19, 1889; fitted at South High School, Worcester, Mass.; left at beginning of Junior year; member of Mandolin Club; Polymnian; member of Y. W. C. A.; Class Secretary (2); elected Vice-President for Junior year; Congregational; intended occupation, teaching; address, 370 Walnut Street, Manchester, N. H.

EDITH GEORGE

We surely are glad that Edith remembers us with an interest that prompts her to wish to be as much a part of the class as circumstances will permit. We gladly welcome you to this book and only hope that it may mean as much to you in the future as it surely will to every one of us who have survived the vengeful, vindictive blasts issuing from the West side of the campus.

Born at Worcester, Mass., Oct. 23, 1891: Franklin, N. H., High, '09; left college at end of Junior year; member of Girls' Glee Club; Y. W. C. A.; Polymnian; Freshman Declamations; Ivy Day toast, "The Boys;" Junior Exhibition, 2d prize; Presbyterian; Progressive; intended occupation, teaching; address, Bedford, N. H.

FRED ROBIE JOHNSTON

This contribution of Aroostook to 1913 is sadly missed. Quiet and unassuming, yet his true worth was recognized by his classmates. Along with his other work, Fred found time to win what so many of us covet, the right to wear a "B."

Born at Fort Fairfield, Me., June 15, 1885; Ricker Classical Institute, '07; entered Bates, 1909; with class two years; made "B" in Track (2); made numerals in Track (1), (2); member Aroostook Club (1), (2); Secretary-Treasurer (1); Vice-President (2); Congregational; Republican; present occupation, teaching; address, Masardis, Me.

HAROLD GREENOUGH NOYES

"Noisy"

With the advance of civilization we have the horseless carriage, smokeless powder and many other wonderful inventions, but this is the only quiet Noisy Boy in existence.

Born at Livermore Falls, March 18, 1891; Wilton Academy, '08; entered Bates in 1909; member of Pieteria; Free Baptist; Democrat; address, Round Pond, Me.

CHARLES BYRON TIBBETTS

"Tib"

If that famous beauty, curly-haired Paris, were alive to-day, he wouldn't have a look in with "Please-tell-me." Besides, Charles' heart was always weak when the women were around. Yet a man of such energy and perseverance cannot help but be noticed in the years to come.

Born at Sanford, Me., Feb. 10, 1890; Sullivan High, Berwick, Me., '09; member Track Team (3), (4); Cross Country Team (4); made numerals in Track (3), (4); Prize Drills, Indian Club (1), Dumb Bells (2); member Y. M. C. A.; Polymnian; member Roger Williams Hall Association; Methodist; intended occupation, teaching; address, Berwick, Maine.

LEWIS JULIAN WHITE

"LEWIE"

We still remember how you refused to yell for 1912 during our freshman year, Lewie, thereby proving yourself white in spirit as well as in name. You were well cut out for a missionary, we believe, but your failure to reform your one-time room-mates, Hollis and Pratt, lost for you any reputation that you ever had along that line.

Born at Brewer, Me., 1890; Bangor High, '09; Glee Club (1); member of Y. M. C. A.; Pierian, Treasurer (2); Vice-President (3); member of 1913 vs. M. A. C. Debating Team (2); member of Sophomore Prize Declamations; Junior Exhibition Speaker; Free Baptist; Republican; address, 7 Willow Street, Bangor, Me.

HAROLD SYLVESTER WRIGHT

We are sorry that Wrighty left school. But there's an awful lot of knowledge that you do not get in college and we believe that Harold is accumulating his share of it. Besides, he brings joy to scores of people daily. And that's worth while.

Born at Charleston, Me., Nov. 5, 1890; Lewiston High School, '09; leader Indian Club Drill (1); member Y. M. C. A.; Euro-sophia, Treasurer (1), (2); Methodist; Progressive; Post Office work; address, 171 Oak Street, Lewiston, Me.

By the faith that the flowers show when they bloom unbidden,
By the calm of the river's flow to a goal that is hidden,
By the trust of a tree that clings to its deep foundation,

 1914 'Rzh! 'Rah! 'Rah!

IT SEEMS impossible that almost three years full of achievement have passed since the class of 1914 began its illustrious record. Since then many changes have taken place. The arduous events of the opening week of our college career, accompanied by the sound of the paddle and savage whoops from the vicinity of Parker Hall, succeeded in bleaching off some of the general greenness. However, according to Dr. Tubbs, it is an honor to be called green as green things only, grow. The class ride was the first real bond to link us to the college—and incidentally to each other. This was strengthened by the bird walks, those marvelous opportunities to cultivate a habit of early rising and acquire a general educational advantage—as well as a good appetite for breakfast.

1914 is particularly fortunate in its quality as well as quantity of genius. Poets, artists, orators, musicians, and athletes are among us. During the first year the society and athletics gave many of these a chance to bring their talents to light, but there were still others whom time and the Sophomore Debates served to reveal.

The introduction of stringent Sunday Blue Laws and Special Sunday Coffees at Rand Hall were the clouds that mark the coming of the storm and stress period in the Archives of 1914.

Whatever glory we have gained in the Past is justly due us, but our former achievements are small in comparison with the ambitions which are about to be brought to the final realization—the crowning of genius—when our prestige is unquestionable and our position not to be doubted—as we sit on the top of the ladder. The character of our class is found in the yell:

"Illi robur et aes triplex Circa pectus erat felex."
 Gazella! Gazella! Gazella!

 1915 'Rah! 'Rah! 'Rah!

In the year of nineteen eleven,
 In the days of bright September,
 Came the class of '15 onward,
 Came from eastward and from westward.
 From potato-land and Gardiner,
 Flocking to the halls of learning,
 To the old and foot-worn campus.
 There to taste of fame and honor,
 And in turn to render honor
 To the name of class and college.
 With a grim determination
 We have carried out our purpose;
 Many are the lines of talent,
 We have in two years developed.
 We have furnished embryo parsons
 To full many a prominent pulpit.
 Proved our skill in declamation,
 Won fair laurels in debating,
 Furnished talent to the glee clubs,
 And helped to make the Batesland famous
 In the warfare on the gridiron,
 With the tide of battle raging
 When defeat was overhanging,
 Worthily we've proved our mettle.
 And in many a bitter struggle,
 1915 lent assistance.
 Honoring the Alma Mater
 When upon the baseball diamond,
 College laurels were in question,
 Royally have we come forward.
 And with skill and perseverance,
 Played for love of class and college,

Bringing triumph to our banners.
 Should you ask me whence this tumult,
 Whence this joyful demonstration,
 In the spring of nineteen twelve
 In the Bates-Maine baseball battle,
 I should answer, I should tell you,
 How a boy from nineteen fifteen,
 With a keen and plucky daring,
 Shot from third base to the home plate
 Scorning Maine's attempts to stop him,
 Scored the run that made Bates victor.
 Time would fail to tell of others,
 How we helped surprise "fair Harvard,"
 Who had thought to practice on us,
 Lowered the colors of "little Rhody,"
 Helped to send Tufts home with o,
 Gave to Colby a coat of whitewash,
 Made our Brunswick neighbors tremble,
 Fighting pluckily till sundown.
 These and many more achievements
 In our first two years accomplished.
 Here we pause to pay a tribute,
 To our dear friend, "Uncle Johnny,"
 Loved and honored by all the students.,
 And our faithful, well-loved Prexy,
 Giving his life in loyal service,
 That the name of Bates might prosper.
 To our classmates who have left us,
 Drawn by fame or matrimony,
 Let us in the years remaining
 Make the name of '15 glorious,
 Further serve our Alma Mater.

Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And departing, leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time.

1916—'Rah-'Rah-'Rah!

IN THE fall of 1912, there arrived at Bates College, from several different states, a band of young men and women, chosen by the faculty for their studious habits, which had been attested to by loving high-school principals. We, the aforesaid band, had each planned to shine brightly. But the first set-back came when we learned that almost every one had been the valedictorian of a high school class the previous June. But with a thought of "our papas' and mammas' farewell injunctions," we plunged into studies with hopes of even gaining renown. Our hopes were gratified when we heard through an upper classman, that a member of the faculty had said that "the class of 1916 was the best behaved class that had entered Bates for some time." Poor class! We didn't find out until some time afterwards, that every year at least one member of the faculty was willing to make such a remark about the incoming class. However, buoyed up by such compliments, we have continued to walk the chalk line as laid down by "the rules and regulations." Not even the "1916 attention!" made us forget our good manners. Our first venture away from the shielding influence of upper classmen was occasioned by the freshman class ride. That little whiff of the fish hatchery, new cider, Lake Auburn, and of freedom from the sophomores, still lingers in our nostrils. Shortly after this trip our class was organized. Then a long, dreary, period elapsed, capped by our long anticipated mid-years. We were successful to such an extent that to only a few were return tickets given. On March 8th, at 2 P.M. in Hathorn Hall our oratorical efforts were received with the ringing of bells, and clapping of hands, which resembled the worship of Cybele. Of course the judges had a long and heated discussion, but after "mature deliberation" they chose the wearers of the laurel. Algebra problems, originals in geometry, declamations in public, and pew giving away in chapel, have perhaps dampened our courage a little, but we have come, we have seen, and we are still hoping to conquer.

Eurosophia enjoys the distinction of being the oldest literary society at Bates. With Κάλλιστα Διζήμεθα as her motto, Eurosophia has attained a culture of the mind and a social unity of its members. Although the membership of the society had fallen below the standard during the first two years of our life at college, with renewed vigor and redoubled efforts, the society has increased its membership to a par with the other societies.

The efforts of the past two years have been along musical and dramatic lines. And as a result social enjoyment from the society life at Bates has been doubled. Eurosophia owes her present standing and future success to the untiring efforts of every individual member of the society. And only has this social unity been realized through individual co-operation.

The class of nineteen thirteen will leave the society upon a firm social and financial basis for the future classes to promulgate the ideals so firmly established.

POLYMNIA, at the beginning of this year, began work under very favorable conditions. Her membership was larger than either of the other two Societies and some good members were added from the Freshman class. Some good meetings were held during the Fall, but so many other interests in the college seemed to take the attention of the students that the desire to do much literary work in the Society was lacking. Consequently Polymnia meetings have come to be more of a social nature than literary.

Owing to this change in the nature of the Society meetings, some are of the opinion that the Societies have passed their usefulness and should give place to something different. However, many of us, who are members of Polymnia, feel that Polymnia still has a place to fill in the life of the students, if not in the literary work, then in the social life. We shall look back over the four years in college and recall with pleasure the many pleasant evenings spent at Polymnia meetings.

THE conscious knowledge of the power and ability to think while on one's feet and to express that thought in creditable language, is of more practical worth to a young man or woman than a whole year of college Latin or Greek. That ability is a development and that development is a mark of the educated. That she has offered the opportunity of that development and better still that that opportunity has been improved by not a few, is the boast of Piæria. The large number of intercollegiate debaters that Piæria has furnished to her college is not the cause of this. It is the result. Although Pi. is the youngest of the societies, yet she has furnished more debaters than the other societies combined. Carroll, Lawton, Sawyer, Quimby, Howard, Pierce, Stordahl, Lowry, Chatto, Packard, not to mention Cave, Slade and Grindle of our own class, are some of the Piærians who have been on winning intercollegiate teams, in our time. It should be with regret, however, that we watch the decline of debating and other programs of a similar nature in Piæria. The thought that needs to be re-emphasized, at present as never before, is that the societies are not primarily for amusement but for development.

JAN. 10. Question for the 'varsity debates chosen.

THE Y. M. C. A. is an organization of young men who believe in the principles of Jesus Christ, and the Association is in the colleges because they believe these principles have a place in the life of college men. Our Association was organized in 1888. Since that time the Association has aimed to be of service to the men in moulding character.

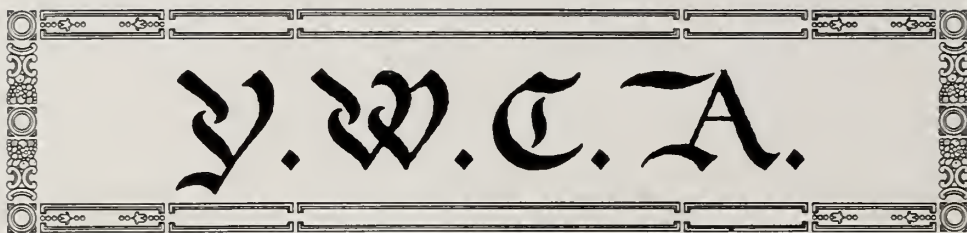

The work of the Association was carried on almost entirely by the students until it became evident that no student could give the amount of time required to make the Association efficient in its work. Consequently in the fall of 1911 a General Secretary was placed in charge of the Association. Mr. Cushman came to us just before the Christmas recess in 1911, and began at once to strengthen the working forces of the Association in order that they might carry on their work more efficiently. The results obtained have been very gratifying indeed to all connected with the work.

Last Spring Bates was represented at Northfield by a delegation of eight men, the largest for a number of years.

This year many lines of work have been carried on with great success. Probably the most notable success has been attained in Bible Study. Plans were well formulated for the work in the spring and when college opened in the fall the work was started at once. Out of the 246 men in college, 188 were enrolled in Bible Study. There were 13 group classes on the campus and two church classes and one boys leaders class. The average was about 70%. This is a good increase over preceding years and we feel that it will grow still more.

In the other lines the work has increased equally well. Some of the work which has never received much attention in the past has made a good beginning such as evangelistic, deputation and teaching foreigners.

Those who have had charge of the Association work this year feel sure that many of the men have been helped either by rendering some assistance to the work or by receiving an inspiration to help out in the work next year. We sincerely hope that every man in Bates will take an interest in the work and will help to do the work which is so important to the men of Bates.

THE YOUNG Women's Christian Association has had its usual field of work and some special privileges during the year. Those who attended the Silver Bay Conference found that former delegates had not exaggerated the beauty of the place or the inspiration that such a conference may be to a college girl. The regular weekly meetings of the Association have included discussions in a wide range of subjects and have been led by outside speakers as well as by students. The voluntary courses in Bible Study in the fall and Mission Study in the spring were carefully planned and well attended. The Missionary Committee arranged a performance of the Foreign Association Pageant. According to a new plan of the National Board a member of this Association was chosen to represent the college associations of Maine at the March meeting of the Northwestern Field Committee in New York. On Nov. 9th and 10th it was the very great pleasure of the Bates Association to entertain the State Conference of Student Associations. It was very pleasant to meet the different delegates and it was a great good fortune to hear the splendid addresses. The Association little realizes the debt it owes to the National Board for making possible such a Conference and the very helpful visits of our faithful Secretary, Miss Mary J. Corbett.

“To-day is your day and mine;
The only day we have;
The day in which we play our part.
What our part may signify in this great world
We may not understand,
But we are to play it and now is the time.”

IT WAS at the instigation of the late Professor Spofford that the Spofford Club came into existence and it was so named to perpetuate his memory. The aims of the club are toward increasing excellence in all forms of English composition and maintaining the highest literary achievements of the college. The BATES STUDENT is indebted to the Club for much of its best material. The members, seventeen in number, chosen from the two upper classes for special aptitude in English composition meet every week. All forms of literary work are submitted for criticism. This year the club has studied the American drama and a three-act college drama has been produced by the club which may be staged later. The Club is seriously considering publishing an annual volume which will contain the best contribution of every member both of the alumni and active members. In all of the work successfully carried out this year, the Club is greatly indebted to Mr. Oldham and Mr. Jamison of the English department, who by criticisms and suggestions, have inspired us to greater efforts.

THE JORDAN Scientific Society was organized in the spring of 1910 by the class of 1911. Its purpose is to afford the opportunity to young men who are especially interested in science to express their views in any scientific subject and to hear them discussed. The Society aims to give a place where any one interested in science may give his ideas or criticize the ideas of others. The society in this way fills a very great need in the college. Before the founding of this society such ideas could be expressed only in the Literary Societies where many of the audience were not interested.

The work of the society of the past year has been following out the program instigated by the founders. Papers on various problems in different branches of science have been given before the society and discussed. Talks of a practical nature have been given by business men of Lewiston and Auburn. There has been an attempt to combine the practical with the theory of the class room, thus giving much useful knowledge. There can be no doubt but that the Jordan Scientific Society has become a permanent institution of the college.

The Politics Club was organized in June, 1912, by Prof. Gould and the class of 1913. Its purpose is to promote an active and intelligent interest in politics and to encourage actual participation in civic work. Membership is limited to the two upper classes and is honorary.

The work of the first year has been largely constructive. The fortnightly meetings have been devoted to an intensive study of municipal problems and conditions. Prof. Gould and ex-Mayor Skelton, '91, have given informal talks before the Club. Good discussions have been the rule at each meeting.

The Club celebrated the New Year by affiliating itself with the Intercollegiate Civic League. Dexter, '13, represented the Club at the annual convention at New York and Washington, April 10 and 11. In introducing the delegation to President Wilson and other public men, Prof. Sait of Columbia University, invariably described the League as composed of college civic clubs from Bates College in Maine to University of California.

The Club has taken the leading place among the honorary societies at Bates this year and there is no reason why it should not maintain this prestige.

The thanks of the organization are due to Prof. Gould for his initiative, energy and tact, which have done so much to make the club a success.

HERE was no great stir in the debate circles of the college, when the class of 1913 entered. We had no men, fresh from interscholastic forensic triumphs. Surely no more unpromising lot of prospective speakers ever faced an instructor than the motley crew, that began Sophomore Argumentation under Mr. Carroll. But we made up in willingness to work, what we lacked in experience. Limited to four cards of notes, we essayed the preliminary debates. Cash, Carter, Allen, Vaughan, Miss Graham, and White won the division prizes. L. Allen, Alley, Vaughan, and three members of the Redoubtable Sixth, White, Feinberg, and Cave were chosen to compete in the Champion Debate. Feinberg resigned because of an ocular disturbance, and another member of the Redoubtable Sixth, Jewett, took his place. After working throughout the Easter vacation and taking extended doses of the cold air treatment, White, Alley and Vaughan won the team debate by a divided decision and to Vaughan went the proud title of Champion Debater. White, Vaughan and Cave were chosen to represent the class against the 'varsity team of Massachusetts Agricultural College. Our inexperience in rebuttal lost us the debate by a divided decision. That ended our individual class records.

As upperclassmen the burden and responsibility of upholding the record of the premier debating college of the world, rested more or less heavily upon our shoulders. In the Advanced Argumentation course, we engaged in a life and death struggle for two places upon the 'varsity teams. After hotly contested trials Cave and Grindle were chosen to assist Parson Rowe against Clark. Mr. Carroll's hens suffered, while he worked with us night and day. With his reliable coaching, we built a case on the Aldrich Banking System, that won the unanimous decision from Clark and prepared us to deliver expert testimony before the Monetary Commission.

As Seniors, the duty of leading the teams against Colgate and Clark, devolved upon us. We pledged our sacred honor to win from Colgate and drafted Slade to out-general the Dutchmen. Our confidence was not misplaced. With Marsden and Packard of 1914 at his heels, he stormed the heights of oratory at Hamilton, and the victory was won. Cave and Feinberg of the aforementioned Redoubtable Sixth, together with Saxton, the only Sophomore to make the 'varsity of recent years, won the Clark debate at Lewiston.

Our thanks are due to our coaches; John of Henhouse Fame, the greatest thinker that Bates ever turned out, and to Peachy, the great tactician, general, and all-round good fellow. To our colleagues of other classes belong equal honors in our victories, Rowe, Marsden, Packard, and Saxton. Careless, irresponsible and irreverent were they all, but always good-hearted. Upon the last three now rests the burden of the forensic record of the college and we may rely upon them to successfully close the contract with Colgate and bring home new laurels to Old Bates.

Our individual sacrifices and hardships are over. We have fought a good fight, we have finished our course, we have kept the faith, and at the feet of our Alma Mater, we humbly lay the three victories we have achieved.

STUDENT BOARD

THE BATES STUDENT

FOR FORTY years, as the only college paper issued by the student body, THE BATES STUDENT has appeared in the form of a monthly literary magazine. In this form it has constantly upheld the reputation of the institution, and has been pronounced the best "small college" paper in the country. It is nearly as old as the college itself, and is so co-existent with it that it seems a vital part of the student life. When, as Juniors, our class assumed the editorial responsibility, the board chosen devoted its time and energy to the production of such a publication as would maintain the reputation of the magazine.

The need of a weekly paper instead of a monthly has long been recognized, for Bates is a growing college and requires a weekly publication to keep the student body in touch with the activities and interests of the college. An effort was made at the beginning of the year to change the paper into a weekly, but we were unsuccessful as in previous years. We succeeded only in creating more or less favorable sentiment among the students, members of the faculty, and friends of the college in favor of such a plan. Our successors, building upon our efforts and those of other boards, have since been able to carry out this scheme, and the weekly is now issued.

The success of this paper is vital to the interests of the college, and, in the future as in the past, it should be our policy to keep in close touch with it, remembering that we, too, once had our share in the responsibility for its success.

HERE is no college in the country more democratic than Bates. One of the expressions of this is the liberty given the student body in self-government. They have been extended the power of self-rule as fast as they have proved themselves capable of exercising it, until to-day the authority vested in the Student Council is undoubtedly as great as that given to any like body in the country.

The past administration has been a quiet one. Nevertheless, more has been accomplished than the student who is not on the Council knows or ever can know. for the Council, from the nature of the cases it handles is constitutionally bound to work in secret. This form of government, like any other, must have the sentiment of the governed behind it to be successful. This has in a degree at least, been lacking. That every student support the Council is absolutely essential for its highest efficiency.

AMONG the various organizations of the college the New Hampshire Club finds itself in what might be termed the period of infancy. And since it is a new organization we must judge its possibilities for the future, not by its achievement in the past, but by its potential energy. Its purpose is to unite in a common tie all girls whose lives are being influenced by the same laws and customs, by the same mountains and streams.

Farewell Address

Walter P. Deering

HERE is one phase of our college life that will probably always stick with us and that is Freshman and Sophomore Decs. Early in the winter Prof. Rob made his debut before the class and with his prettiest smile and most pleasing manner told us to prepare for vocal exercise. Training tables were begun at once at the various eating clubs and all the prep school orators of the June before now began to resolve that they would show the Prof. a few things in the spouting line. After learning that "impression precedes expression" and that "All expression is from inward out" and a few other of the fundamentals, the preliminary agony was on. Each division showed signs of nervousness and overwork. Probably never did judges have a harder task than to pick out the speakers for the Prize Speaking; which statement may be interpreted in two ways. The Prize Declamations were of the highest order. If you doubt it, we refer you to the decision of the Judges.

One of our members is reported as giving the Prof. the advice to keep his distance, but in spite of that he finally worked his way into our good will and in our second year we found that he was not such a bad fellow after all. We began our sophomore work with the great advantage of the previous year's training. After being able to get our mouths open far enough to swallow two fingers and to repeat backwards "Nobody looks at the clouds with a love that equals mine" we were ready for the test. We missed Miss Roys, Brady, Tufts, and McCollister but again the exercises were marked by excellence. The future Governors and Congressmen of our class will always look to this training as the foundation of their success.

STATE ORATORICAL CONTEST

DURING our Senior year the first State Oratorical Contest ever held was given under the auspices of the Maine Peace Society. Arrangements were made for trials at each of the state colleges and for a final contest between representatives of each institution. We all remember of listening to the preliminaries at chapel. For some reason Bowdoin and Colby failed to enter the contest thus taking away a good part of the interest. However, Maine and Bates entered with a good spirit and a large sized audience listened to the orations.

SINCE the class of 1913 entered college an enviable record of the musical clubs has been established throughout the New England states. During our four years the musical clubs have offered entertainment to all of New England. Wherever concerts have been given only the highest words of appreciation have been heard. The class of 1912 with its wealth of musical talent was a great factor in musical development at Bates and it was thought that their departure from college would seriously cripple that phase of college activity. But the class of 1913 produced talent that has not only kept intact but added to the established prestige of the Bates clubs. Our annual joint concert with Bowdoin has been a delightful feature of the past few seasons and all have entered heartily into the event and made it always a long to be remembered affair. 1913 has been lacking a little in soloists, but Nickerson, Morrison and Kidder have aided greatly in the development of a quartet which has had no equal at Bates. We of '13 leave to the future clubs our best wishes for ever increasing success. If they continue worthy of the name of Bates we shall be satisfied.

BATES COLLEGE BAND

WHAT would college life be without a band? Whether we have sat behind it on the grandstand, playing our teams on to victories or done the snake dance down Lisbon Street to the tune of "Alma Mater" we all appreciate its true worth. Since we have been in college we have never been anything but proud of the bands that have represented Bates. All praise to the men who worked so hard to arouse spirit and enthusiasm at our mass meetings, athletic contests and celebrations.

MUSIC hath charms for the beasts. Many are the visiting debating teams that have invaded us only to have their power charmed away by the Bates orchestra and, of course, lose the debate. All musical organizations have their place and many an otherwise dry debate or lecture has been enlivened by the rapturous strains of our orchestra. Our numerous social functions at Rand Hall have all been highly enjoyable and largely attended. Doubtless they were in and of themselves of such a nature to draw the boys, but the pleasure of them has surely been greatly enhanced by the presence of this musical organization. The men have kept this branch of music up only at sacrifice of time and energy and we here pay tribute to whom tribute is due.

The organization of the Girls' Glee Club in 1910 was a step whose practicability has been proved by the successful work since done by the Club. For a Leader the Club was favored by having Dr. Brandelle, who by untiring efforts did much in perfecting the Club. The first year a recital in the Main Street Church and a concert in the Chapel were given. The Club has been called upon to give selections at various society and Y. W. C. A. meetings. The Main Street Church was well filled on the evening of April 21, 1913, when the second annual concert was given. The Club has been most fortunate this year in having excellent drill in expression and phrasing under Miss Whitney of the Woman's Department.

Another girls' organization formed in 1910 is the Mandolin Club. Enthusiasm in work has been shown from the first and the club has steadily grown this year numbering twenty-two. Until 1911 the work of the club consisted in playing at social events at Rand Hall and at Society meetings. In 1911 the first concert with the Glee Club was given in the Main Street Free Baptist Church. In 1912 the Club played at several teas and during this year the first annual banquet was given at Ross's Inn. This proved so enjoyable that another was held this year at Cheney House. The Club has made a very good showing this year. It has been in demand at many socials and entertainments beside the successful concert with the Glee Club.

FOOTBALL

Capt. Dennis

IT IS with satisfaction as well as with pleasure that we review the progress of football at Bates from 1909 to 1913. Although not once during that time has a championship banner been brought home, yet we have twice defeated the state Champions and have won victories in face of the most discouraging circumstances. The spirit shown by the team, squad, student body and faculty has been one of determination and the harmony and co-ordination manifested is a source of gratification to all. During our connection with the college and during her entire career, Bates has been winning the victory this is the desired object of all athletics; the developing of clean sportsmanship. Throughout her circle of association Bates has earned a reputation for fair, aggressive sportsmanship that would be enviable in any college. In the fall of our Freshman year Bates was represented by one of the lightest teams in her history and it was only by hard work of the coaches and squad that the scores were as small as they were, losing to Maine at Orono 16-3, to Colby at Lewiston 10-3, and to Bowdoin at Lewiston, 5-0. The next fall only two state games were played. The first was won from Maine at Lewiston, 10-0, the result of getting into the game from the start and closely following the ball. After an hour of strenuous effort the Bowdoin game resulted in a 6 to 6 tie, both teams deserving much credit for their exhibition of clean fighting spirit. The next year, although not as good as the preceding as far as percentage is concerned, had its redeeming features. Our defeat by Colby, 14-0, was far from encouraging. The sting of this defeat, combined with individual determination and reconstructive work of the coaches, resulted in a 5-0 victory over Maine after one of the hardest fought contests in the history of either college. While great credit is due our team for its gameness, no praise should be detracted from the desperate yet sportsmanlike exhibition of the Maine team. We lost to Bowdoin, 10-0. The season just passed was successful and pleasing in many ways. The first game played before a doubtful yet hopeful public, resulted in a 7-6 victory for Maine, a difficult goal alone preventing a tie. For the first time since our class has contributed to the glory of Bates, we had the pleasure of defeating our dearest rival, Bowdoin, on Whittier field, the score being 7-6. The game was hard fought and clean though full of spectacular runs and critical moments. Although scored upon in the first three minutes of play, Bates came back strong and won a hard-earned victory. Full of confidence the team went to Waterville for the first time in three years.

Mgr. Plumstead

Colby had a heavy, fast team and was no mean opponent. The first half was hard fought and apparently even, the score being 9-6. Early in the second half Colby's two All Maine backs began a series of long runs and when the smoke had cleared the score was 35-6. No excuses are offered, we were fairly defeated. The team will feel the loss of several men whose work has been prominent for four seasons. Those who have worked hard for the success of football are Capt. Dennis, Shepard, Thompson, Gove, McNish, Walsh, DeLano, and James. To Capt. Danahy, 1913 expresses the sincere wish for the success that must inevitably attend the spirit and calibre of effort he has shown for the past three years.

As we leave college the record in football is as follows:

Bates-Bowdoin
19 games
Bates won 6, lost 12, tied 1
Bates-Colby
20 games
Bates won 10, lost 9, tied 1

Bates-Maine
27 games
Bates won 16, lost 7, tied 4
Bates-Harvard
12 games
Bates scored in 4 games

BASEBALL

BASEBALL

Capt. Griffin

SINCE our entrance at Bates we have had the opportunity of seeing some fine exhibitions of baseball. Although since that time Bates has not won a state championship, she has accomplished many noted feats and made her opponents dig right to the finish. Our freshman year saw our old rival, Bowdoin, defeated three times, 5-2, 5-4, 7-6. The only game played with Colby was an 8-7 victory. With Maine we were less fortunate, losing both games, 8-4 and 5-0.

In 1911 a team was produced at Bowdoin that cleaned up everything, winning six straight games and the championship. Bates won and lost from both Maine and Colby.

1912 produced a youthful but snappy aggregation. The early spring trip was a wonderful success. Harvard went down before the curves of Anderson and Stinson to the score of 3-2. We also won from Rhode Island State in an eleven-inning game with Lindquist in the box, and lost to Brown, 3-2. In the state series we lost to Maine at Orono, although the game was protested. The team then took a rally and defeated

Colby, 2-1; Maine, 2-0, and Tufts, 1-0. Bowdoin stopped the winning streak by defeating us 2-1. With a determination to prevent a repetition by the Black and White, the Garnet went to Brunswick only to be defeated, 5-4, after 18 hard-fought innings. This was the longest college game ever played in Maine. Colby won the final game the next day, 7-2.

The season just closed may be fittingly called a season of accidents. In the first New Hampshire State game Stinson broke his pitching hand and we were without his services the rest of the season. The state series opened with a victory over the Light Blue at Orono, 4-2. May 7, Colby defeated us on Garcelon Field, 4-1. Captain Griffin, attempting to steal home, suffered a broken leg, placing him on his hospital bed for the rest of the season. We pause here to pay tribute to him. As a gritty ball player and a fighting leader, he has no superior in the state. Three years 'varsity captain is his unique record. With the 'varsity battery out of the game, the remainder of the year was as successful as perhaps should be expected. May 14, Maine retaliated, 8-5. Memorial Day saw the best game of the year, when the Garnet triumphed over the White in a ninth inning rally, 2-1. Colby made it two straight June 4 in a game characterized by errors. Bowdoin captured their Ivy Day game, 5-1.

A TIME-HONORED tradition at Bates is the Freshman-Sophomore game played the first Saturday of the Fall semester. We shall never forget our part in the keeping of that observance. To be sure, the naughty Sophs captured little Linc Hall and penned him up two days without food or water that they might have him to ride the mule at the game. But the placard in the picture tells the final story better than any verbal description. And who will ever forget the rush after game, in spite of all that Prexy and Smiling Freddy could do to stop it?

Some have been heard to state that no class ever had the wealth of baseball material that 1914 possessed. But the placard again shows that they all looked alike to us. 1913 has won many victories as a class but few gave more satisfaction than our baseball contests.

IT IS not merely as a track coach developing stars that we best remember James Lathrop. Any man, star or amateur, out for his first trial, was sure of the best advice the coach had. Many men who never took a point even in a class meet, have received benefits which they will never forget. Long service in track work in the best colleges in the country including twenty-five years at Harvard, has made him one of the best coaches in New England to-day. Much of the credit for the brilliant record of the past two years is due to "Coach Jim."

TRACK

Capt. Shepard

 HERE was a time in the history of Track at Bates when the fourth place in the state meet was conceded to her by all long before the meet. Since then, thanks to our splendid growth, good fortune in securing coaches, and to the popularity which track athletics has obtained, we are in a position to defy the best of them until the last tape is broken. In the spring of 1910 we won second place in the state meet for the first time in our history with a total of 37 points. In 1911 all eyes were on the state meet at Waterville. A close, hard-fought meet was expected and the people were not disappointed. Not until the last event was over was the result determined. Maine won the meet by two points, 39-41. That year Bates was represented at New England Meet for the first time. They were very successful, considering the field of competition, getting sixth place with eleven points. One of the features of the meet was the running of Holden in the Half Mile, winning first place and making a new record for New England of one minute and fifty-six seconds. The fall of 1911 saw a new man in charge of track at Bates, James Lathrop, formerly connected with Harvard athletics for 25 years. Enthusiasm began to grow immediately. A good cross country team was turned out that fall. The greatest event in the history of track at Bates occurred at Brunswick in the spring of 1912 when the state championship was won by the following score: Bates, 43; Maine, 39; Colby, 26; Bowdoin, 18. Every man did all that was expected of him and then some. Much appreciation was shown to all who were instrumental in bringing home the victory and an informal reception was given to Coach Lathrop on the field by the enthusiastic students. The features of the meet were the performances of Capt. Blanchard who set up a new record of 16 seconds in the high hurdles, Shepard who broke the record in the shot put with a heave of 42 feet, 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ in., and Gove, who added many feet to the discus record for a total of 125 feet 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches. Two Bates men were chosen for the Olympic games in 1912, Capt. Blanchard and Holden. This is a rare honor for Bates when we remember the athletes were chosen from the best in the United States. With the victory of 1912 to inspire them the track men went to work with determination. In the winter and spring interesting interclass games were held in preparation for the big meets. An event that bolstered up our courage was the defeat of the strong Maine team in a dual meet May 10, 58-68. The cold and wind prevented any spectacular work. Bates took nine out of fourteen firsts. The State Meet of 1913 was the fastest for many years. Nine records were broken and one equalled. Bates took second place, being only three points behind the leaders. And we have the satisfaction of having proved our superiority over them only the week before in a dual meet Bates took six firsts out of fourteen, broke four records and equalled another. We now hold the state record in the half-mile run, 120-yard hurdles, high jump, shot put and discus throw, and hold jointly with Bowdoin and Colby the record in the 220-yard dash.

The New England Meet this spring was held under the worst possible conditions, rain falling every day. Capt. Shepard and Kempton did fine work for the Garnet, taking $4\frac{1}{2}$ points. May Bates strive in every manly way to uphold her splendid record of the past college generation in track athletics.

STATE CHAMPIONS 1912

CLASS TRACK

In track, as in other athletic contests, the class of 1913 at once took the lead. Such a wealth of track material has never before been gathered in one class at Bates. Its revelation was at the annual indoor meet, our class winning with 51 points against a total of 30 by the other three classes, and taking 6 out of a possible 7 firsts. Woodman was the individual star, with 12 points to his credit. The next year our victory was taken as a matter of course and we won with 57 points to 18 for the freshmen. Again Woodman led with 14 points. The meet of our Junior year was marked by the breaking of two state records by 1913, Kempton clearing the bar in the high jump at 5 feet 9 inches, and Shepard and Gove both bettered the record in the shot put, Shepard leading with 41 ft. 8½ inches. 1913 again won the meet, with a margin of 20 points. Woodman for the third time was the individual point winner.

March 13, 1913, the Class of 1913 made its final appearance at City Hall, and a better date could not have been chosen for among its numbers 13 is recognized as being symbolical of success. The result was as expected only more so, a sweeping victory of 58 points, the runner up being 1916 with 25. Thompson was the individual point winner of this meet with 17 points, beside helping win the relay. The feature of the meet was the relay race. The Senior team, Dennis, Houston, Deering and Thompson, established a hall record of $1.16\frac{1}{2}$ in a close race with the freshmen. This same race started off badly by the first man falling, but he and the other three men came back with a fighting spirit and turned apparent defeat into victory. This fighting spirit is the characteristic feature of 1913, the only class which ever won four indoor and four outdoor meets, and the only class that never lost a baseball, basketball or football game. There are a number who have worked for the success of our class in track, and some who have worked without success. Much credit is due them all. Altho we are proud of our class record, we sincerely hope that Bates may have many classes like ours to uphold the enviable record of the college, to maintain which 1913 has contributed so much.

IN OUR Freshman year, we were not very successful in tennis, failing to place in the interclass tournament in the fall in the doubles, and the singles were not finished. However, Woodman made the 'varsity team the next spring and went to Waterville. The best of our players were outclassed in both doubles and singles. The next fall the bad weather caused an indefinite postponement of the interclass tournament. The team which journeyed to Brunswick in the spring included Woodman of our class, and C. Clason, '11, F. Clason, '11, and Tomblen, '14. Bowdoin won the singles, but we had things our own way in the doubles, which were won by C. Clason and Woodman. Again in our Junior year did the rain interfere with the college tournament. The teams competing at U. of M. that spring were Capt. Woodman, '13, and Tomblen, '14; Nickerson, '13, and Alley,

'13, in the doubles, and Woodman and Tomblen in the singles, Pratt, '13, being manager. This was a most successful year, Tomblen winning the singles, Woodman and Tomblen the doubles. In the college games last fall Nickerson won the singles, and the doubles went to Profs. Gould and Oldham of the faculty. We all remember watching the state tournament on the Bates courts this spring. The surprise of the games was the defeat of Bird of U. of M. and Tomblen, both ex-champions of the state. Nickerson, '13, got into the semi-finals in the singles. Foster of Colby, won the singles from Savage of Bowdoin in a pretty contest. Woodman and Tomblen for the third time won the championship in the doubles, without any difficulty, their final opponents being Morse and Cushman of Colby, who lost three straight sets. May Bates keep up her standard of the past years in tennis.

BASKETBALL

(GIRLS)

OUR GIRLS' basketball team made its debut the Freshman year when there was great enthusiasm over the game and the upper classes were represented by strong and experienced teams. Owing to the inexperience of most of our girls, no games were won that year.

The next year saw a change. After a year's experience together, a fast team was developed which won two of their three games played, losing only to the champion 1911 team after hard and closely fought games.

The team which represented us in our Junior year was as good as they make them, winning all their games and the championship by superior team work, although the individual work of Capt. Macomber and Miss Vose was specially noticeable. The games were marked by the class spirit shown by the girls and the intense but friendly rivalry. After the final game the Junior girls gave a fitting celebration in honor of their championship team as a token of appreciation for their hard work.

In our Senior year the boys were ruled from watching the games much to their regret and the rule was strictly enforced. Games seen through the window cannot be judged very accurately so we cannot state the individual stars. But the result was repetition of the previous year and once more did 1913 prove her superiority over all others.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION OFFICERS

MARCH 2. First good snowshoeing of the year.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

BASKETBALL, as far as organized teams are concerned, is confined to the Freshman and Sophomore teams. Since 1911, however, the annual Washington's birthday game has been tabooed. This did not prevent our class from winning two decisive victories, however. Our Freshman team was undoubtedly one of the best that ever represented a class at Bates. It consisted of five individual stars, Holden, Woodman, Daicy, Dennis, and Gove, whose fast team work won a 40 to 29 victory over the Sophs. The two vacancies the next year were ably filled by Dickson and Feinberg. After a remarkably fast and exciting forty minutes against a team of worthy opponents, our team came through bruised but victorious, 24 to 17. Much credit is due to every man of our teams who have worked so hard to keep our line of victories unbroken.

SOCIAL LIFE

SOCIAL LIFE

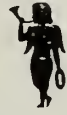

WITH the exception of our Freshman Class Ride, the entire class has been together upon only two occasions. But whatever has been lacking in number of social events, has been more than made up in our Junior Class Party and our Christmas Tree of last year. Many attempts have been made for similar gatherings, however, but have been frustrated. This should in no degree reflect upon the social ability of several members of our class. The Junior Class Party stands out prominently in our minds as probably the best time the class has had as a whole. Roger Williams Hall was gaily decorated with banners and everything to make it cosy. All formality was dispensed with and for the first time everybody was tagged and called by their first name. The evening was spent in playing games and passed too quickly for all. Refreshments were served by some and monopolized by others. The chaperones for the evening were Prof. and Mrs. Hertell, Mrs. Roberts and Mr. Harms. The success of the event was due to the committee who carried through one of the most enjoyable social events of the college year.

Last December before leaving for the usual Christmas recess, it was voted by the class to have a class Christmas Tree, and so, accordingly, the class assembled in Fiske Room the Friday evening before college closed. Santa Claus, disguised in the form of Shepard, entered down an impromptu chimney to distribute gifts to the impatient school children who, with Margaret Dickson as teacher, were endeavoring to quell their noisy clamor and answer their embarrassing questions. In the class were "Linc" Hall, "Muggsy" Adams, "Cutey" Cash, Doc Sleeper, "Billy" Walsh and others. The gifts which Shep passed out to the lucky recipients were more than amusing. Fletcher got a miniature world with the slogan "The world is mine." Aletha was presented with a Shepherd to keep her from Harm's way. Gloomy Cave was presented with the final word in the Ego Debater. Santa remembered even Kempie and nearly all the boys. The gifts were based upon intrinsic rather than monetary value. An event which will never be forgotten as the other Christmases drift by, is that of our only class Christmas Tree.

The "Four Hundred" of Nineteen Thirteen

In the social whirl of our class there are, of course, certain members who have stood out pre-eminently in the terrible rustle and strain of social activities. These individuals and pairs of individuals have been wholly responsible for our position in the Rand Hall Ball Room and the Libbey Forum.

When attending a social function at Rand Hall if you wish to pick out the four hundred simply look about the cozy corners and you will spy perhaps Edith and Co; Cub and Decameron; and many others. There, flaunting the latest styles in children's clothing, is Lincoln "Parker" Hall standing on tiptoes talking, or rather confiding, to his social compatriot "Shep" all dolled up with a lock collar and a package of spearmint.

There are many others who have been equally prominent in the social life, of course these above mentioned are the "all-timers." There are also a number of the "once-in-a-whilers." Nate Huston has of late read in a book that all the world loves a lover and after looking over our rather limited supply of eligible co-eds has selected a Ballard which Nate sings with wonderful execution. Bertie often creases his Hart Schaffners and falls into the social whirl. It's a mad, dizzy pace and few can stand it.

A great peculiarity of our class is that the social whirl increases in proportion to the increase in refreshments. This has been a distinguishing mark between the real and superficial four hundred. Ralph Bonney has a wonderful appetite for a child and has been known to dispose of a box of fancy cookies without even smiing. It has been rumored that crackers have been on sale in his room directly following the "rackets."

Longing eyes of the members of our pretentious class have been yearly cast at the members of the entering class to look over the material, but without exception this has been only temporary.

It is the pace that kills.

A Retrospect

(Our thoughts ten, twenty, thirty, forty years after Commencement.)

Far away in distant fancy
Closely guarded, richly treasured
Rests a memory, faint yet go'den,
Relic of our joys unmeasured.

Youth has fled, but friendship lingers,
Sweetest gift we took from college,
Brightening all our later pathways,
Richer far than facts and knowledge.

Oft by firesides brightly glowing,
Some in distant climes, some nearer,
Gather groups of old-time classmates
Telling stories now grown dearer.

Sweet to us these happy moments
Turning o'er life's early pages,
Looking back on young ambitions
Meant to kindle all the ages.

Yet, where'er our paths may guide us,
O'er whatever lands we wander,
Glow the beams of college friendship,
Blessed with memories, ever fonder.

CLASS RIDES

CLASS RIDE

THE CLASS of nineteen thirteen has participated in only one grand, hilarious class ride. Other classes usually have more, but the individualism of our class demanded only one. It will long be remembered by those of the class who were participants upon that Saturday when a hundred or more took cars at the campus and headed towards Lake Grove. Nothing more eventful than the purloining of a nineteen thirteen banner by the sophs marked the departure of the caravan.

To Professor Stanton who was the host of the ride, was due the splendid success of the day. He did everything possible to make the ride a great success. "Johnnie" said, "Now don't be afraid to speak to the young ladies." He encouraged the faint hearts of the boys. When you see couples strolling about the campus to-day, and who have been doing it for four years, it perhaps can be traced back to the class ride.

After a couple of miles hike to a neighboring farm house lunches were opened and the hospitality of the farmhouse was at our disposal. After our ravenous appetites were satisfied we adjourned via the electrics to Lake Grove where the rest of the afternoon was spent in cruising Lake Auburn in motor launches and imbibing sweet cider from the cider mill in the same city.

The return to the city was made without any eventful accidents and the party dispersed at the campus after having enjoyed one of the most enjoyable occasions since its entrance into Bates. To Professor Stanton we extend thanks for having made it a day to be remembered in future days.

WHAT THE KIDDERS HAVE TO SAY

DURING the winter blanks were passed to the members of the class asking various questions, wise and otherwise, sensible and non-sensible. Not all the class favored us with replies, but some of those passed in are worth noticing. Many have answered truthfully, others "with malice aforethought." Take them for what they are worth.

Age

The class on the whole shows a decided maturity. The average, judging from those passed in, is 23 plus. Pa Slade is probably the o'dest, although he refused to state his age. If you will glance through the personal statistics you will notice that a certain lady refused to state her age also. Miss Cameron is the class baby.

Physical Dimensions

DeLano, of course, has it on any of us when it comes to height; 6 feet 7 and "still growing." Bennett can just look over Woodman's head, while Cheever, Davis, Thompson, Cave and Dickson are all in the six-foot class or over. Miss Cameron, Hall and Doc Sleeper are having a hot race to see who can grow the least. "Link" is a little behind them, although of course he is a little ahead of them in the race. Five feet and one inch is his limit, caused by overwork in early youth. DeLano is the giant of the class, while Bug Wilson is the lightweight.

Best Athlete

Shepard was elected practically unanimously, although Woodman had 9 votes and Thompson and Dennis were also remembered.

Why I Came to Bates

The answers to this question were both varied and amusing. Bonney came to get a wife. DeLano wanted to grow broader. We infer that he meant intellectually. One wanted to be near Music Hall. The most popular choice was "most democratic and least expensive." Cave wanted "to get away from Stratford Center." We can't blame him. Jewett came "to learn fussing" and he has certainly earned his diploma. Plumstead came "to take care of Dennis" as d'd another for Frank Hull. We must suggest in passing that both did a mighty poor job. All agreed that were they to choose again there would be nothing to it but Bates.

Most Popular Prof.

Dr. Tubbs led the field by a big lead. Ramsdell was second with Hartshorn and Leonard running well.

Easiest Course

Willie's physics received this distinction. Education was second with Freshman Ethics a close third, although Hall called this the hardest course because "it was hard to bluff Prexie." A majority agreed that the hardest course was "anything to Gould," with Pom second.

MARCH 7. Just an ordinary college day.

Greatest Enjoyment in College

Bates 3, Harvard 2, was prominent in the minds of some. Dancing was the choice of many—boys. Joe Varghan named Co-educating and he ought to know. Cheever's greatest enjoyment was in his meals. Nate Houston enjoyed "Society and Rand Hall socials." The greatest enjoyment of Nickerson and Wilson was "kidding Fletcher."

Politics

1913 is a Teddy class. Most of his votes, however, were from the co-eds which shows that Teddy knew what he was about when he wrote the Woman Suffrage plank. Republicans come next, being 8 votes behind the Progressives and 8 ahead of the Democrats.

Greatest Grind

Davis won this honor with a few votes to spare. Slade won second over Deering. Fletcher with the aid of two others, got three votes. Miss Goudy won out in the women's side.

Greatest Pessimist

"Gloomy Gus" Cave had things all his own way in this. He admitted he was a candidate but wouldn't vote for himself. Bonney, Durrell and Woodman received scattering votes.

Greatest Sleeper

Dr. Sleeper won this, although, as some one pointed out, he is also the smallest sleeper in the class. We must agree, too, that DeLano is the longest sleeper. Capt. Griffin received a good vote.

Greatest Fusser

Frank Adams pulled out ahead over Frank Jewett in a close contest. Nickerson and Vaughan received deserved recognition. It was suggested that Deering get the amateur cup.

Biggest Hot Air Artist

This competition was productive of a great deal of closeness. Walsh and Dickson were tied for first place. It is a hard choice. Walsh-Dickson Co. would be a hard combination to beat.

Matrimony?

Jewett disappointed us with the one word, "never." Davis is more hopeful but replies "not yet." Miss Jones answers "in the far distance." Cheer up, Bee, Kingfield is not such an awful ways off. Cheever will wait "until he gets a house and fire to put her in." Cave would think of suicide first. Plumstead is "heartily in favor." McNish will take the fatal step "if she has a million and a bad cough."

MARCH 8. Prof. Rob's "Mexican Athletes" perform in Hathorn Hall.
The speakers came and the speakers went, but the bell went on forever.

The Current Events Club Discusses Woman's Suffrage

A THRILLING DRAMA IN ONE REEL

Time—Thursday eve.

Scene—The Library Corner in Fiske Hall.

Enter the Senior girls, tying on aprons and opening workbags. All try to seize gracefully the chair nearest the feeble drop light.

Mildred—(rising and frowning upon the last spasms of the unruly members, says abruptly)—The meeting will please come to order. The subject for discussion this evening is Woman's Suffrage. Each one is to have the opportunity, as usual, to voice her opinion. Discussion will be formally opened by Miss Huckins.

Esther—Inasmuch as next year we shall be college graduates—

Ruth—Are you sure? We may have another Education exam.

Leila—Well, they'll have to give us our diplomas. We paid for them.

Mary—But wouldn't it be terrible to get one with the middle cut out?

Jeanie—In order that the excitement of the coming discussion may not make us forget our academic position, we'll sing before we begin.

Verne—All right. Start up the band.

Full Chorus—It's great to be a Senior and wear a Senior's smile

With a box at Mony's vaudeville show,

And a record in the mile.

With analysis in Chemistry, and friends who think you're dear.

Fill up your glass with Rand Hall Punch, and drink to Senior year.

For it's great to be a Senior and wear a Senior's smile,

With a gown that flaps in ev'ry breeze, and agencies on file.

The undergrads look up to you, you have a heap of fun;

Then work the Profs to let you by, and your fame's won.

Esther—(raising her voice above the hubbub)—Well, next year we will be expected to have sane opinions upon the questions of the day, and—

Hazel—Yes, we ought to express our opinions,—

Ethel—Well, the only sane opinion of Woman's Suffrage is—

MARCH 9. Bill Sawyer attempts to assassinate Gloomy Cave, but unfortunately fails.

Alice S.—(hearing only one word in the sentence)—What's your opinion as to how I should sew this lace on?

Florence—Why, this way, of course.

Lu—Well, now, isn't that a stupid way to make a sleeve?

Mabel—Hush, the Princess speaks.

Mildred—(pounding the table with a rolled-up Art Magazine)—Order!

Esther—Everyone admits that the questions of Woman's Suffrage is one of the most conspicuous questions of the day—

Alice T.—The "conspicuous" applies to the suffragettes.

Ethe!—Yes, with their old yellow banners!

Lora—Suffrage is all right for old maids.

Ruby—Woman's sphere is the home. If she can manage her—

(Chorus from the other faction)—Cave dwellers!!!

Gladys—Oh, let's not be so silly. Let's sing "Just Before the Mideyears."

Full Chorus—All right.

Just before the mideyears, mother, I am thinking most of you,
For the little bit of History that I know, won't pull me through.
And the mists of Microcosmos gather round my throbbing brow,
While before me on the pages, I can see your dear face now.
Cheer up, mother, you may never see your offspring cut a swell,
But if I flunk five courses, they'll all say I'm doing well.
I have gone to Education, but I haven't bought the books,
I have gazed with rapt expression, but I can't pass on my looks;
Hunting up those verbs in German, does but bind us to the wheel,
I am tired of that amusement, can't we ever change the reel?
Cheer up, mother, in our H. M. I have learned to build a house,
I can run it in the future, when I've long forgotten Faust.

Gladys—And the last verse.

I have gone to Senior English forty-seven times this term,
Mony sits there on the platform and you bet he makes us squirm.
And he mauls those books and authors till they're like a heap of junk,
If you ever see my notebook you won't wonder if I flunk.
Cheer up, mother, I have never entertained behind a screen;
Soon my dignity diploma can be made out by the Dean.

Mildred—(rising with dignity) If there is no more discussion or business to come before this meeting, I wait the motion to adjourn.

Edith—There's my bell; move we adjourn.

MARCH 10. Pres. Adams calls a meeting of the Jordan Society and then goes to the Nickel.

Verna—(looking up from an Etude which has absorbed her for an hour)
Second that motion.

Mildred—The meeting is adjourned.

No one moves.

Elaine—I'd like to suggest having refreshments next time.

Esther—I'd like to suggest the Argumentation course for nine-tenths of the members of this club.

Alice S.—There, I've finished my waist at last.

Whistle blows twice.

Mildred—Mercy! Eight o'clock and I haven't started my German and Latin for Saturday yet.

Ruth—Well, who has?

But the pessimistic suggestion stirs up the multitude and they precipitately depart, humming "It's a long lane that has no turning."

LITTLE BUT—OH MY!

BATES STUDENTS
SUSPEND STUDIES

And Elect Baseball Team to Faculty—Celebrate the Victory

"Bates three, Harvard two!"

In the lives of the Bates students of to-day the sensations caused by that brief bulletin will never be forgotten. That Bates should beat Harvard! That the score should be so close and the figures so small!

News of such importance was gently broken to the students at Parker Hall by the Lewiston Journal.

"Sure there's no mistake?" inquired the voice at the other end. Then the receiver hung up, but it did not click until after a terrific yell had been emitted by the student.

"Bates won," he shouted thru the corridor.

From room to room the score was repeated. The fellows were excited with enthusiasm. They danced the dances of their prehistoric ancestors hitherto unknown to them and hugged each other with joy.

Some of the more conservative inquired if there hadn't been a mistake somewhere, but they could get no one to listen to them.

"Where's the band?" "Let's have a parade." "Ring the chapel bell." "Light a bon fire."

Everybody had a different idea. Soon the bell was peeling forth the joyful tidings to the two cities. At the same time the tooting of horns in various parts of the hall indicated that the band was getting ready.

Official News Arrives.

Soon after 7 o'clock a messenger boy delivered a telegram at No. 19 Parker Hall. It was from George E. Brunner, manager of the baseball team and was directed to William E. Lovell, his room mate. It read:

"Bates 3; Harvard 2. Burn the Gym."

Brunner's message only increased the enthusiasm which then had reached the character of celebration.

Wednesday, April 24, 1912.

cept the band assumed the roll of a circus clown, mounted the railings, entered the "loveliest city of the plain," by the elevated.

Auburn burned more red fire than Lewiston and the citizens warmly welcomed the college men.

Fitted Them Out With Red Fire.

As soon as the parade reached the store of the Wells Sporting Goods Company on Court street, the ranks broke up as the men rushed into Wells' after fireworks. Anticipating their arrival, Benny Wells had dug out what was left over of his last year's supply of red fire and

"dies, horns, racket, and c to th which he gave lest that the students may meet the team at the depot with the band and carry the players to the college.

Dan'y Dexter sent this wireless message to Capt. Griffin:

"Student council meeting tonight. Voted to send congratulations. Also voted to suspend recitations for a week and to elect the baseball team to the faculty Denter.

Denter is Dexter's code name. It was an orderly celebration, yet lacked not for enthusiasm.

Reveries of a Dutch Alumnus

Ven I vas 'steen me mudder
She up und say to me
"By'n' by you go zum college
Undt den vere vill you be."

"Py golly! I don' know," says I,
"But ven I leave classmates
I tink I take some baggage
Undt take a hike zum Bates."

"Py chee! dot's some idee" says she.
"Beeg man's you vill be yet,
For you're ze schmartest of ze sons
I efer did beget."

"Dot's recht," says I, "I surely am
Ze brightest of said sons,
But, darn it, ain't I ought to be,
Since I'm ze on'y vons."

Mine fadder, he come home dat night,
Some happy mans vas he,
To see ze gross ambition
I vas growing up to be.

"Me son, me leetle boy," says he,
"Das geld eet shall be had,
To tink dat you vas reis' zum Bates,
Eet make me sure some g'ad."

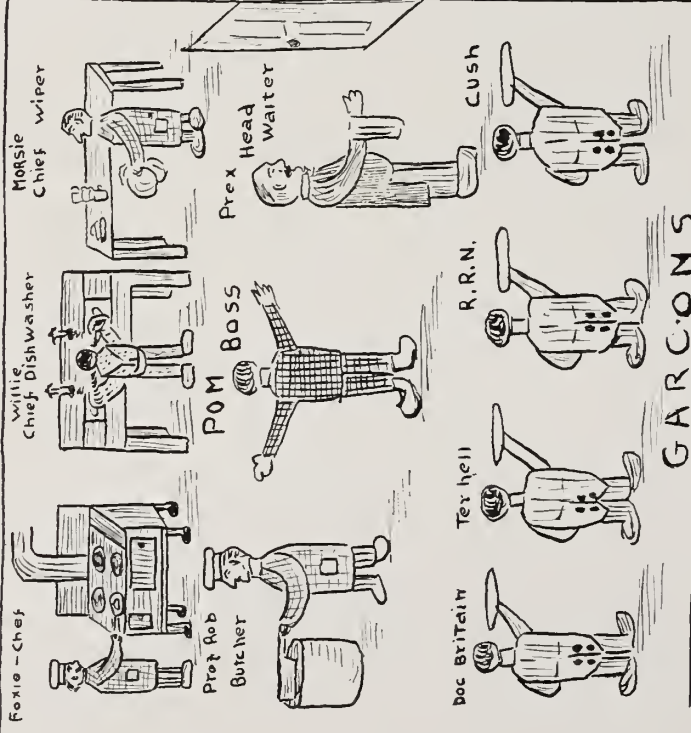

"Py golly, I don't plame you
Ven von Schulen you haf pick,
I vent dere, too, undt I tell you
Ze fun I had vas slick."

At any rate to Bates I came,
I did just vat I please,
So Sophs dey take me oudt ein nacht
Und beat me to Dutch cheese.

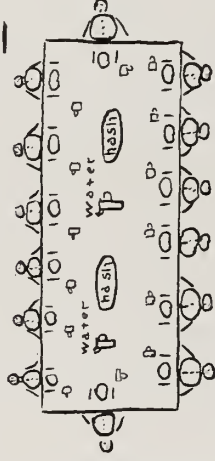

Dey said, "You unsophistocated
Keg of sauerkraut,
How ever did your fadder
Set his vife's young baby oudt."

But after dat dey use me fine,
Dey laff ze vay I talk;
Now nights I go zum Bett und sleep
Undt leave ze door unlock.

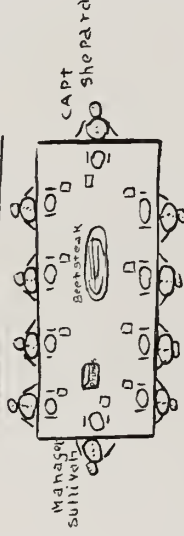

Ze next year we get freshmen,
Ve pound 'em till de're bent;
Next day I get some notice
To ging zum President.
I tell him how vhen first I come
Dey call me ein Dutch cheese;
He says, "Since you haf squared t'ings up,
Don't do it some more, please."
Next year ze class dey 'lect me to Speak peace on Ify Day,
I write zum folks, dey send vord back
Dere's proud of me; Hooray!
Me mudder, she haf make new dress
Mein fadder kauf' ein "dip."
Dey take sandpaper to new shoes
For fear dat dey might slip.
On Ify Day right ven I speak
Mann sagt, "Who is that "squirt?"
Me fadder, mad, standt up in seat
Undt tear vom man ze shirt.
In fall of Senior year ze class
Elect me president;
My fadder vas so glad dat he
Vent down undt paid ze rent.
Alumnus am I now, mein freunds
Undt educated be;
Since after mein cognomen
Ich kann schreiben gross A.B.
Bevor I close dere's just von t'ing
Py golly! I tell you,
If efer ich hab' son of mine
He come to Bates school, too.
If he, perhaps, make up ze mind
Ein andere schul' to pick,
Mein freund, he'll come to Bates to school
Or fadder use ze stick.
Classmates are ging undt scattered,
Undt sometimes I feel blue;
But in ze heart dere's always room
For everyone of you.
Ven I lef' Bates ze heart most broke
With thots of "feeds" undt "sings,"
But soon I see dat school, like life,
Is step zum higher things.

PLAN OF THE BATES COLLEGE COMMONS

RAMSDELL - KNAPP - PURINGTON - COMMITTEE

JOKES

HEARD IN THE CLASS ROOM
OR ABOUT THE CAMPUS

“If evil be said of thee and it be true, correct thyself; if it be false, laugh at it.”

—Epictetus.

You who think our jokes are poor
Would straightway change your views;
Could you compare what we accept
With those that we refuse.

Monie—"What is the matter with him, Mr. Pennell?"

Jack—"He's in love."

Monie (interpreting a passage)—"He didn't give a—what? Mr. Woodman."

Monie (speaking of the derivation of certain words in our language)—"Where do we find all these old forms even to-day. Mr. Fletcher, you ought to know."

NOTE.—Fletcher comes from Wilton.

Monie (after calling on Mr. Dickson in English)—Excuse me, I didn't mean you. I ought not to call on visitors.

Monie—"Come hider, love, to me Miss Dickson, read on, please."

RUBBING IT IN

Monie fired a question to Bennet, who flunked. "Oh, Mr. Bennett, that's an easy one; I thought it out especially for you before I came up."

Mr. James (translating):

"A lovyer and a lusty bachelor

With lokkes crulle, as they were layed impresse,

A lover and a lusty bachelor with looks crael (laughter), er—I mean with cruel looks (more laughter). James hesitates.

Monie—"Well, 'Cruelle lokkes' means curly locks. Now see if you can do equally well with the next line."

MARCH 16. Snowshoeing going fast.

Mr. Slade (reporting in geology)—“The author brings out the idea that as regards the life and destiny of man it is a matter of whence and whither.”

Dr. Tubbs—“Well, man is so constituted that he will soon find out the whither.”

F. Adams was substituting a few days in Gardiner (Me.)

“Railroad”—(In Economics)—“Can any one tell me anything about Mr. Adams?”

Shep (in a self-satisfied tone)—“Oh, he’s gone down to the city for a few days.”

MARCH 17. Pres. Southwick at City Hall in King Lear.

Prof. Whitehorne (in physics)—(After all the class had failed to get a problem regarding the power required for damming a stream)—“Well, what seems to be the trouble with this dam problem, anyway?”

The following conversation took place between one of the girls of 1913 and “Peachy” Oldham:

Freshman—“I have a stiff neck and cannot move my head.”

Peachy—“Does it hurt you to talk?”

Freshman—“Not if I keep still.”

Foxy—Mr. Hall, why is Sicily a good place to get sulphur?

Line Hall (with an air of confidence)—“Because it is so near the water.”

Foxy—W-e-l-l, yes, islands are usually somewhere near the water.

The following news item appeared in the local paper recently: “Mr. Slade of the senior class of Bates College occupied the pulpit last Sunday and the church will now be closed for two weeks for repairs.”

Miss Lougee—Professor, will you please tell me what part of the barette is the meniscus?

MARCH 18. Y. M. C. A. do deputation work at Monmouth.

Foxy—Mr. Cave, ever hear of acetylene lights?

Cave—Yes, a man at Centre Strafford is agent for some, and they use some in town, too.

Foxy—Well, why do you suppose it is that they don't use any here in Lewiston?

Cave—Well, I suppose that they never heard of them here.

First Senior—"What have you registered for?"

Second Senior—"Biblical literature and astronomy."

First Senior—"Oh, I see, going to study the heavens from both view points, eh?"

A certain member of 1913 when a freshman translated as follows:

"Some heavy armed soldiers stood up and some heavy armed soldiers sat down."

Smiling Freddy—"That's a correct translation but not very smooth."

Freshman—"Some heavy armed soldiers stood up one hand and some sat down on the other."

And then Freddy smiled a smole.

Prof. Puri (lecturing in class)—"Fermentation is a chemical change caused by a ferment."

Later in chemistry.

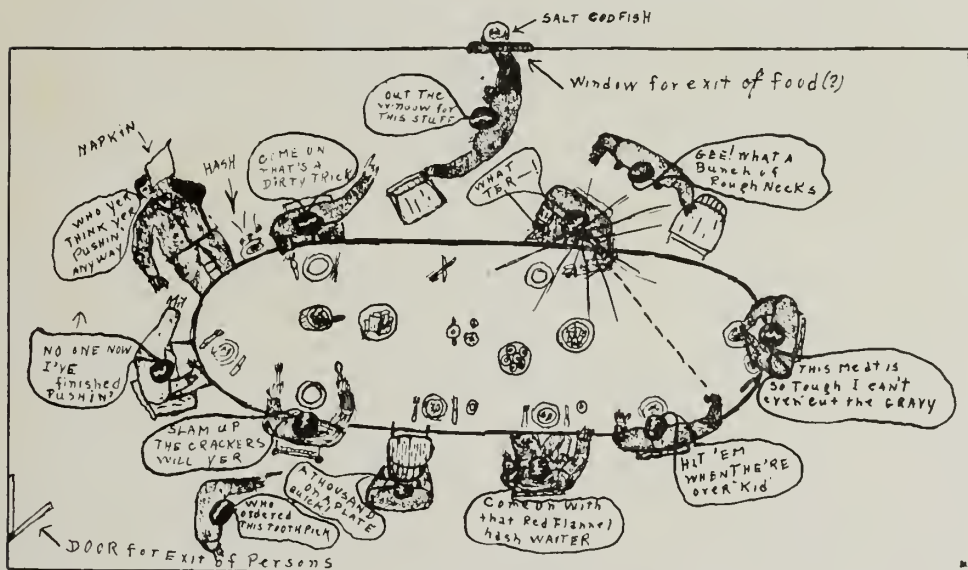

Foxy—"Mr. Cheever, define fermentation."

Mr. Cheever—"Fermentation is a chemical change caused by a ferment."

Foxy—"Well—er—that may get you by in some classes, but it won't here."

MARCH 19. Y. M. C. A. conducts Chapel. Dr. Anthony talks of Livingston.

"THEM WAS THE HAPPY DAYS"
 IN THE HISTORY OF "EAT
 YOU COULDN'T CUT THE GRAYV
 AND YOU COULDN'T DENT THE MEAT
 YOU COULDN'T SHELL THE GRAPENUTS
 NEITHER ANALIZE THE HASH
 SO YOU HEAVED IT OUT THE WINDOW
 AFTER RAISING UP THE SASH

FORCE OF HABIT

"Your time has come," said the angel of death.

"Not prepared to-day," replied Plumstead, sleepily.

We wonder if the following is true:

Edith (at the 'phone)—"Hello, Paul?"

Paul—"Hello."

Edith—"I am afraid that I shall have to ask you to postpone your call until to-morrow night."

Paul—"Er—why—er—what's the trouble?"

Edith—"My lips are chapped."

Paul—"Oho-oo-oo."

HOW ABOUT IT, JACK?

Dr. Britan (in Education)—We—ll, er, I suppose that more young teachers fail because of allowing too many liberties than for being too strict. Isn't that true, Mr. Cheever?

Jack—"I've seen young teachers (here Jack gets the laugh) who would not allow many liberties."

Dr. Britan—"Oh, yes, we all have our own experiences."

WE WONDER IF—

Dr. Jordan was wont to go to the liquor agency in the city for samples for analysis. On one of his visits, after asking for a pint of the necessary article, he was told that the agency had been forbidden to sell any more. The Professor expressed his sorrow and was walking away when an old soak spoke and said: "Ever try ale, Professor?" Foxy's reply is not on record.

SCIENCE HALL, LEWISTON, ME., Sept. 10, 1909.

DEAR MA: It is almost half-past nine but I guess I will write you a few lines to-night before I go to bed to let you know I am getting along first-rate. Hope you are all well. I am getting along corking, as the fellows here say, in my studies. President Chase told me the other day that if I kept up the kind of work I had been doing I could go home in a few days. (I guess them new shirts you made me are about the thing, I seen lots of fellows looking at them around here.)

It is getting pretty late, so I will close,
Your loving son,

GEORGE.

MARCH 21. No Societies meetings. Holy week.

WE CAN HARDLY BELIEVE IT, DR.?

Doc Britan (Lecturing on Imagination in Children)—"I can remember when I was a child, I used to wonder if the clouds everywhere were the same as they appeared to me on the farm. And when I went away from home they used to look different. You have heard of the man who was going home tipsy and was asked if that bright object in the heavens was the moon, replied: 'I don't egshackly know. Yer see I'm a stranger round here.' Well, er, I was in somewhat the same condition."

WE ALL AGREE WITH SHEP

Railroad (in Pol. Sci.)—Just for the benefit of those who have not been in my classes before I will state that I am apt to give written quizzes almost any time, and so in the words of Dewey, "In times of peace prepare for war."

Shep—"In words of Sherman, 'War is H—I.' Therefore, prepare for H—I!"

Gould tells his class in Nineteenth Century History that only a very few will get an "A" and not many will get a "B," and all want to consider themselves fortunate if they get by, and all the time he spoke as though he thought he were telling news.

A typical exam. question of the aforesaid course is: I. (a) Make a detailed outline of European history since 1815. (b) Fill in the outline.

Prof. Puri (Lecturing in Physiology)—In case of severe cold, stay indoors. Keep right in. Take long walks—now hold.

Kidder—"What did your father say when you told him that my love for you was like a broad and gushing river?"

She—"He said, 'Dam it.'"

Mr. Cash: The faculty have voted to form a special class in English for those who are deficient in spelling. Kindly come to the English Seminar for a short preliminary meeting of the class at 1.20 to-day.

WELL—ER—

Prof. Britan (in Education class)—"I will now call the roll."

Mr. Thompson—"Never mind, I'll answer for the class."

Mr. Cave has a remarkable vocabulary as all can testify who have heard him in the forensic art. But his masterpiece is probably his definition of Teddy's new political belief: "A pollysyllabic monstrosity; an unpronounceable conglomeration of phonographic elements expressing a reactionary movement."

The following was also found in "Gloomy's" note book in Psychology: "When the dissimulation of the asundation of the perpheral zone connect or colocket with the world as seen through the back of the head, there is a process of disintegration or assintergration initiated."

Prof. Pom.—"Mr. Vaughan, where do the worms go during the winter?"

Joe—"Search me."
